Taxes Going Up! Utility Assessments Are Cause

Contra Costa taxpayers will pay more — not less — tax this year.

An increase in the county tax rate seemed a virtual certainty this week following assessment by the State Board of Equalization of county private utilities at $150,-110 instead of the $166,000 estimated by D. M. Teeter.

AN ADDITIONAL law suit that could cost Contra Costa taxpayers as must as $7 million also loomed as a likelihood following apparently unsuccessful protests by the utilities at hearings before the board in Sacramento.

Unless the county is able to trim some $300,000 from its present budget figure of $32,642,394, the county rate will rise two cents to $2.20.

The county supervisors, who had expected a three cent tax decrease, have ordered Teeter to completely reexamine the preliminary budget to anticipate the paper loss.

THE SUIT which could shift some $30,000,000 more in property taxes to owners of common property is contemplated by Pacific Gas and Electric Company in behalf of its newly acquired subsidiary, the Pinole Power and Light Company.

County Assessor C. L. Dunklee deems such a suit "very likely."

The Pinole holdings have been tentatively assessed by the board at $150,110. If the board does not reduce its assessment by August 19 when the final assessment roll is adopted, the case will probably go into Contra Costa Superior Court.

The utilities contended at the Monday hearings that the state assesses their holdings at 50 per cent of market value in contrast with the county assessment average of 25 per cent.

But this claim was challenged by Dunklee who pointed out that "market values" for a private home and for a utility were arrived at through different techniques. Were PG&E assessed by Contra Costa County, he said, the amount of their assessment would be about the same as that determined by the state board.

"In other words," the assessor stated, "I challenge the claim that the private utilities are over assessed."

Dunklee pointed out prior to the hearings that the utility companies are guaranteed a six per cent return on their investments.

"No competitive oil refinery, steel mill or chemical company has any such guarantee," he said.

STATEWIDE assessment of the utilities was boosted to $3,102,-728,740, an increase of 8.86 per cent from last year. In Contra Costa, the utility assessment is now $150,874,420, an increase of 2.27 per cent.

Francis Carr, tax department manager for PG&E opposed the assessment increases and urged the board to perform its "long-neglected constitutional duty" in taxing utilities "to the same extent and in the same manner" as other holdings.

Both Contra Costa and Alameda supervisors have opposed lowering utility assessments on grounds that a major tax burden would be shifted to consumers.

ARTHUR COREY, executive secretary for the California Teachers Association, told the board Monday night that it would be "premature" for the state to change its assessment standards at this point.

An interim legislative committee is now beginning a $200,000 two-year study of state taxation problems, Corey pointed out.

HOLDING CONFERENCE in the backyard of a Concord home are three members of the county assessing crew under the direction of Supervisor Carl Rush. The assessors have completed equalizing the eastern end of Contra Costa and are now working in Concord. Pleasant Hill, Lafayette, Orinda and other unincorporated areas are next. Left to right are John Woolpert, field chief; John Farley, cost estimator and Rush.

Petitions for City Vote Qualify

$1,052,223 Budget Okayed for Schools

A record budget of $1,052,223 for the 1957-58 fiscal year was approved by the Orinda School Board Monday night, meeting at the Pine Grove School.

The anticipated new rate will be about $1.98 per $100 assessed valuation, for maintenance and operation, as compared to last year's operational rate of $1.56.

Taxes for retirement, community services and state building fund loan retirement are expected to bring the total tax rate to $2.27, as compared with last year's total tax rate of $1.79.

MOST OF THE INCREASE in budget and tx rate is due to higher operational expenses, salary increases and the hiring of 12 new instructors, Orinda District Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff stated.

In addition to conducting the budget hearing, the school board took a number of other actions, including:

1. Decided to prepare plans and specifications in connection with calling for gids for link-fencing around the Pine Grove School playground.

2. DECIDED TO seek from the state, loans for purchase of the remainder of the Wagner Ranch and Inland Valley school site properties.

Approximately half of the 32 acres of the Wagner Ranch site, at Bear Creek Road and San Pablo Dam Road, has been purchased for about $48,000. Total price of the 32 acres is about $90,000. The district plans to build two kindergarten-through sixth grade schools there.

Less than half of the 22-acre Inland Valley site has been purchased for about $40,000. Total price of the 22 acres is about $110,-000. Contemplated for the site are a kindergarten-through-sixth grade elementary school and an upper grade school.

Anderson and Simmonds of Oakland are the architects for the elementary school at Inland Valley. Sheaff said the architects' plans are expected to be complete by next May and that it is hoped that the Inland Valley elementary school will be ready for use sometime in the 1958-59 school year.

Loans for these remaining purchases have been approved by the State Department of Education. The actual loans are still to be issued by the Allocation Board.

3. INSTRUCTED architect Jack Butcher to prepare working drawings for addition of a library, three classrooms, a kindergarten and stage at Glorietta School.

A state loan of some $140,000 is being sought from the State Allocation Board for this project Department of Education approval has already been obtained. Also, the local school board is still negotiating with Dr. Miles Hudson for some three acres of land for addition to the Glorietta School site.

4. Awarded to O. C. Jones and Son the contract for paving the lower playground at Sleepy Hollow School. The firm's low bid was $4290. The bids had been opened July 29.

(Awards for contract for furniture for the Pine Grove School were made July 29—to H. S. Crocker Company, Beier and Gunderson, and American Seating Company.)

5. ACCEPTED THE resignation of Donald Wacks, teacher at the Glorietta School the past five years. He will become vice principal at a Newark chool.

6. Hired Miss Patrica Neal as new vocal music teacher for the district, for the next school year.

7. Gave permission to the Acalanes District Adult Education Program to use the home arts room at the Pine Grove School for one of the Adult Program's evening classes.

On July 29 the local school board awarded Ed Eoff Company of Richmond the contract for addition of three classrooms and a multi-purpose room at Sleepy Hollow School, on the firm's total bid of $197,605—$160,300 for construction, $28,952 for site work, and $8353 for utilities.

Telephone Rate Will Go Up If PUC Grants Request

It will cost you more to make some telephone calls in the near future if the Public Utilities Commission grants a rate increase sought this week by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

If you are making a call from Concord to the main part of Oakland, it will cost you more.

If you make a call from Walnut Creek to San Francisco, it will cost you more.

If you call from Orinda to Hayward, it will cost you more, but not if you make a call from Orinda to central San Francisco.

Confusing? Yes, but this is the way it is explained, according to the request before the PUC.

The telephone company's proposal calls for an increase in charges on most Bay Area calls beyond eight miles by 4.4 cents . . . the cost of a "message unit."

What this actually means, is that there will be an increase . . . if granted by the PUC . . . in phone calls which are above the present four-message-unit level.

For example, it is now four message units to place a call from Walnut Creek or Lafayette to San Francisco, but it is only three message units for a call to Oakland.

Therefore, if the rate increase is granted, the toll for calls to Francisco will be increased, but calls to Oakland from these points will remain the same.

In addition, additional increases have been asked by the telephone company. They are:

1. An increase of from $7 to $10 on the installation of new residence telephones and from $10 to $15 on new business service.

2. An increase of from $4 to $7 on both business and residence where a telephone is already in place but not connected.

3. An increase in the rate on person-to-person calls ranging from five to 40 cents for the first three minutes, depending upon the distance.

4. The charge for moving or changing the present telephone from the present $4 to $5.

5. Message rate business and semi-public extensions and telephones served by P.B.X. from $1 per month to $1.25.

In its rate application, the company said it needs the rate increase to keep pace with the rising costs of employment, materials and equipment, and to stop the downward trend in its credit rating and the investment standing of its securities.

"We are currently underway on our greatest expansion program in California," said Vice President E. D. Maloney. "This program is costing about $1.3 million every working day, for a total of $321 million this year."

New Gas War Reaches Area

A new gasoline war has moved through the East Bay, and has reached Orinda.

Many stations have dropped the price about 8 cents per gallon, following suit after competitors did the same in Richmond, Oakland, Berkeley and San Leandro.

Regular gas has gone from 32.9 cents to as low as 24.9, and premium from 35.9 to 27.9.

Paasch Says Delay Would Mean Big Saving in Fee

Petitions asking the County Board of Supervisors to schedule an election on incorporation of Orinda have qualified, County Clerk Walter T. Paasch told the supervisors Tuesday.

He added that under a new law passed by the last session of the State Legislature, the proponents of the petition can save $1300 if they wait until the new law becomes effective September 11 before paying the required fee for cost of publication of legal notice.

He explained that the present law on the matter requires that all names signed to such petitions be published in the notices, but that the new law does away with that requirement.

UNDER THE PRESENT setup, Paasch explained, a fee of $1500 would have to be deposited by the proponents so that the notice could be published and so that he cauld officially file the petitions.

But by waiting until the effective date of the new law—which was authored by State Senator Arthur H. Breed Jr.—the fee would be reduced to about $200, Paasch said.

The petitions have been circulated by the Orinda Association.

ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT Gene Estes said yesterday that Jim Benney, chairman of the finance subcommittee of the association's incorporation committee is checking on the provisions of the new law.

"I'm pretty sure that if it doesn't jeopardize the chances of the petition, the association will take advantage of the delay," Estes said.

He added that the subject would probably come up for discussion at next Monday night's meeting of the association board at Orinda School.

Ernest Spiegl, general chairman of the incorporation committee is out of town on vacation and is not expected back until around August 16 or 17, Estes said.

IN HIS REPORT to the supervisors Tuesday, Paasch explained that even with a delay in making the deposit, a city of Orinda could be formed by February 1 (if an election were successful) so that the city could be on the tax rolls for the 1957-58 fiscal year.

An election—in which a simple majority vote would be decisive—could not be held until January 1 if the proponents take advantage of the money-saving delay, Paasch said.

That is a month later than the earliest possible date of an election which would be possible if publication were to occur immediately.

PRIOR TO Paasch's report, Deputy County Assessor Jerry Tara had checked the petitions.

Required were the signatures of at least 25 per cent of the property owners in the area suggested for incorporation, who must represent at least 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of the land (unimproved) in the area.

Paasch reported that of 3486 signatures, 2763 were found valid, while 723 were declared invalid.

THE 2763 VALID signatures represented slightly less than 50 per cent of the 6024 registered voters in the area, and considerably more than 25 per cent of the 7070 property owners, he said.

Total assessed land valuation of the area proposed for incorporation was reported as $2,893,-150.

The valid signatures represented $755,808 in land valuation—slightly more than the required 25 per cent in valuation ($723,-288).

'Chip' Curtis Rites Conducted

Private funeral services were held last Friday afternoon at the First Congreational Church of Berkeley for Thomas Wayne "Chip" Curtis, young son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Curtis of 121 Overhill Road, Orinda.

"Chip," 4 years and 10 months old, died at Elk Lake, Oregon, July 29, where the family was vacationing. He was pronounced dead after he was pulled from the water. Attempts to revive the boy proved fruitless.

The funeral services were conducted by Dr. Jock Stocking of the First Congregational Church of Berkeley.

In addition to "Chip's" parents, survivors include a brother, Donald A.; a sister, Linda Lee, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Moulton of Berkeley. "Chip's" father is a dentist, with his office in Berkeley.

Funeral arrangements were by the Edward E. Niehaus Company of Berkeley.

The family suggested that those who wish to do so may make memorial donations to the Children's Hospital of the East Bay or to their favorite charity.

What's the Pine Grove Fuss All About?

What's all the fuss about the Pine Grove?

Plenty, as many observers over the past several years an tell you.

But the admittedly complicated picture seems to have become even more complicated in recent weeks.

Here are a few recent developments regarding the controversial corner at the northesat "corner" of what is still frequently referred to as the Crossroads, even though the Orinda Interchange supposedly did away with a "Crossroads":

1. ALL NEGOTIATIONS have apparently halted, for the time being at least, regarding possible purchase of a 10½-acre Pine Grove parcel from Pacific Intermountain Express Company by the Orinda Association, and regarding possible sale of a little over five acres of Orinda Community Center land by the Orinda Association to the Orinda Community Church, according to President Gene Estes of the Orinda Association.

2. Filed July 26 was an Orinda Association appeal against a Superior Court judgment upholding a county ordinance which rezoned the land from residential-agricultural to administrative office district.

Attorney Gladys Schwatka, association counsel, stated recently that "it might be as long as eight months"—and at least six months—before the District Court of Appeals in San Francisco acts on the appeal.

3. IN AN EFFORT to raise money for a down payment on the Pine Grove land, the association has been considering the possibility of selling some if its Community Center land to the adjacent Orinda Community Church, which faces the necessity of expansion.

4. An appraiser jointly retained by the association and the church estimated the value of the entire seven acres of Community Center land at approximately $35,000.

An acre and a half reserved for a future Orinda Library building (for which structure the Orinda Library Committee conducted a vigorous financial drive several months ago) is valued by the association at about $12,000.

DEDUCTING that amount from the total, the association placed a value of $23,000 on the remaining land. To this the estimate of $3000 was added, for a possible road right-of-way for the church, according to Estes.

"That brought the total valuation up to $26,000, for land being considered for possible sale to the church," Estes said.

"The church offered $30,000 for the slightly more than five acres involved."

5. A FEW MONTHS ago PIE, through Edward H. Heller, a director and principal stockholder of the company, offered the Pine Grove parcel for sale to the association for $106,000, according to Estes—the same price PIE paid East Bay Municipal Utility District for the land over two and a half years ago, khen PIE contemplated building a $750,000 office headquarters building there.

"PIE indicated it would allow us ample time in which to develop a plan," Estes said.

6. Early in July the association received a letter from A. S. Glikbarg, new president of PIE, stating that the price of the parcel was now $142,000 and that the deadline for a firm commitment by the association was July 15.

7. "THE NEXT DAY I wired Heller, who is vacationing at Lake Tahoe for the summer, and asked him in effect, 'What do we do now?' " Estes reported.

8. "A few days later—around July 12—I received a reply from Heller, informing me that there must be some mistake and that we would keep on negotiating as agreed," Estes continued.

9. "On July 20, I sent another telegram to Heller, saying I was happy to hear from him and asking him to advise us on what steps we should take," Estes went on.

"To date, I have received no answer from Heller."

10. NOR HAS THERE been any written reply from Glikbarg to the association in response to a letter sent him by Association Secretary Claire Ward, regarding his letter of July 3 on the $142,000 price and the July 15 deadline, according to Estes.

11. "I talked to Gilkbarg on the phone July 15, the day the deadline," Estes reported. "The gist of that conversation was that the July 15 deadline still held, as did the $142,00 price."

In her latter Mrs. Ward had asked for an explanation, pointing out that the July 15 deadline created "a great hardship" for the association.

12. GLIKBARG, a San Francisco attorney with offices at 155 Sansome Street, was not available for comment yesterday.

Glikbarg's office reported that C. E. Johnson, former executive vice president of PIE and now chairman of the board, recently underwent major surgery in Boston and is now at his home in Danville, recuperating.

13. At the July 22 association board meeting, Ernest Spiegl, general chairman of the organization's incorporation committtee, questioned whether the association has the moral and legal right to sell ony of its Community Center land while not obtaining other land in its place.

"BOTH MORALLY and legally the association can do nothing but hold that land (the present Community Center land—editor) in trust unless they can use it to buy other property," Spiegl said.

He added that making a down payment on the Pine Grove parcel, with a large debt outstanding was not proper and would result in defeat of an incorporation is "a subterfuge to shove the Pine Grove down people's throats."

14. Estes this week stated that Spiegl's remarks were good ones. He added:

Although there are some people who think otherwise, the issue of incorporation is unrelated now to the Pine Grove problem."

The Orinda Community Church's offer has been taken under advisement by the association board.

Orinda Village Bypass Described by Vern Cline

Describing it as "the most expensive mile the county has ever built," Vern Cline, assistant public works director, discussed the Orinda Village Bypass at the Orinda Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting at Casa Orinda Tuesday.

Cline said that the 1.2-mile, four lane highway will cost a total of some $900,000 — the actual road contract price of $745,556, plus about $47,000 for relocation of five Pacific Gas and Electric Company towers, plus the cost of gas, water, sewer and telephone utilities relocations.

Cline, who is with the design division of the County Public Works Department, said that completion of the project is scheduled for next summer — and that if next winter is mild, completion might even be accomplished by next spring.

Frederickson and Watson Company and Ransome Construction Company, both of Oakland, are the contractors on the job, work on which has already started.

AWARDING of the contract to these two firms, made July 23, received official approval last Tuesday when the County Board of Supervisors signed an agreement with the companies.

The Orinda Village Bypass will extend from the Orinda Interchange to Miner Road. About 4000 feet of it will follow or cross over meandering San Pablo Creek.

Chamber President Maynard Buehler presided at the chamber meeting.

Major problem, Cline told his audience, has been designing the drainage.

THE COUNTY official pointed out that the Orinda Village Bypass is part of the $5 million-plus San Pablo Dam Road project, which in turn is part of the $10,-250,000 county road bond issue program approved by the county voters in 1952.

The northern 3.3 miles, or full four-lane width, is now complete, Cline said.

Immediately south of that is a 6.3-mile stretch from Castro Road to Bear Creek Road — of two-lane width, but it is designed for possible widening later.

Then, south of that, is a gap of one mile.

Finally, the southermost portion of the San Pablo Dam Road project is the 1.2-mile Orinda Village Bypass.

CLINE RECALLED that originally — insofar as the section from Orinda Village to the Crossroads area was concerned — the bond issue allowed only for widening of Orinda Highway.

The Orinda chamber, he declared, had much to do with pointing up the need for a bypass instead of merely widening the old Orinda Highway. However, the old Orinda Highway will become a four-lane road in the future, Cline said.

Extra funds were obtained from county funds, to make the bypass possible. Cline predicted that the new bypass will have a capacity of over 16,000 cars per day.

At present the traffic load ranges from about 10,000 cars daily at the Interchange to about 2000 at Miner Road.

"THAT'S WHY we have not yet scheduled the last link — the one-mile gap just north of the bypass," Cline said.

"It is now through a residential area, and is not as important as many other roads in the county."

Cline described Orinda Highway as "the most complicated road I've worked on."

"Most of it is on top of or adjoining San Pablo Creek," he said.

SEVERAL STUDIES were made.

The projected work has been designed for withstanding "the 100-year storm," Cline said. He explained that this phrase meant a storm of such severity that it occurs only about once every 100 years.

He added that the big storm of two years ago was a "20-year storm" — the kind which occurs once every 20 years or so.

Sleepy Hollow Meet Rewards Top Swimmers

Winners in the 17-year and older group at the Sleepy Hollow Pool synchronized swim meet Sunday were Gordon Pike, Mike Riley and Ronny Bieber in the boys group, and Rose Georgian in the girls group.

Other boys winner, listed first, second and third, respectively in in their groups, are as follows:

Ten and under: Pete Boyle, Mike Spinola and Francis Gillespie.

Eleven and 12—John Spinola, Mory Serpa and Dan Weber.

Court Blasts Asst. DA: 'Persistent Misconduct'

A Contra Costa County assistant district attorney was accused of "persistant and flagrant misconduct" last week in an opinion handed down by the State District Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

The target of the court criticism is Assistant District Attorney Douglas M. Quinlan, accused by the Appeals Court of judicial misconduct for his role in obtaining a narcotics conviction against Oakland resident John Clifford Hyles.

HYLES WAS FREED by the court of charges of selling marijuana. The judicial body said that there was only "very weak" and "circumstantial" evidence relating Hyles to a woman, Mrs. Anne Lucas, who sold a police informer marijuana at a San Pablo tavern.

The court said that Quinlan was guilty of misconduct in repeatedly attempting to get out-of-court statements linking Hyles to Mrs. Lucas.

At the time of Hyles' trial police officers told the jury that marked money was found on him and marijuana found in his car. Hyles said that the narcotics were not his and that he didn't know they were there.

QUINLAN TOLD The Sun this week that "the full opinion of the court has not reached me as yet." He said that his knowledge of the decision was still limited to press accounts.

"Apparently," the assistant district attorney said, "the court just didn't feel there was enough evidence. I thought that there was."

Polio Clinics To Start Next Friday in PH

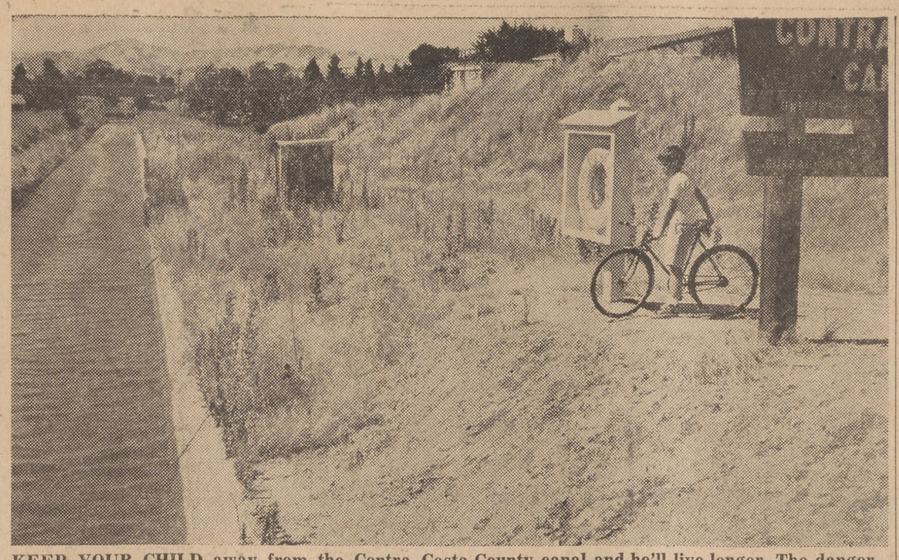
"Beginning August 16 and continuing on the third Friday of each month, free polio immunization clinics will be held in Pleasant Hill," Dr. Elvira Goettsch, assistant health officer in charge of communicable disease control, announced this week.

Clinics will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. at the community Baptist Church, 924 Pleasant Hill Road. Both children and adults are eligible for polio vaccine.

All parents are urged to get protective vacine for themselves as well as their children.

Those due for second or third shots should get them now. Second injections are due one month after the first and third injections seven to 12 months after the second. At present the Health Department recommends boosters every two years.

Polio clinics are maintained as a part of the Health Department's communicable disease control program.



KEEP YOUR CHILD away from the Contra Costa County canal and he'll live longer. The danger of the open canal to small children was highlighted by the recent drowning of an Oakland youngster. EBMUD to Prepare Maps for Citizen Water Committee

East Bay Municipal Utility District will prepare detailed maps of its ultimate service area upon the request of the North Central County Water Committee it was decided last week at a Concord meeting of the committee.

Appointed by the Board of Supervisors, the citizens advisory water group met with two EBMUD representatives in Judge John Garaventa's municipal court chambers August 1 to discuss boundary problems.

THE GROUP SEEKS to form a public water district in the area served by the Contra Costa Canal, taking over the present area served by California Water Service.

The committee also heard from William O'Connell, county water consultant; Victor Sauer, public works director, and Fred Bold, attorney and legal expert for the CCCWD.

Bold discussed the formation of local improvement districts which the committee has previously agreed is the most feasible method of serving water to the areas within the proposed district.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Martinez Water Company did not appear to discuss boundary problems with the group. Chairman Grant Burton stated that a meeting might have to be arranged with the Martinez company at the Martinez City Council's convenience.

The committee also discussed a proposal from San Ramon Valley residents to purchase CWS facilities in their area for possible annexation to EBMUD.

Ricker Will Play in S.F.

Pianist Herbert Ricker, who has given successful recitals in Austria and and New York's Town Hall, will make his first San Francisco appearance Monday evening at 8:30 at the Century Club, 1355 Franklin Street.

His program will include works by Scarlatti, Beethoven and Chopin, as well as Ricker's own Sonatine, which was first performed by Rudolf Firkusny in Oklahoma City.

The recital will be presented by William E. King Attractions. Tickets are available by calling WE 1-3273, and at the Century Club on the night of the recital.

Carnegie Club To Receive Charter Tuesday

Members of the Diablo Chapter, Dale Carnegie Club International will receive their charter on Tuesday night at the El Nido Rancho, Lafayette.

Officers will also be installed. They are Robert Little of Orinda, president; Russell Schumacher, vice president; Ireeta Hanson, secretary; and Lola Bartlett, treasurer.

George Lineer, progress chairman; Florence Drummond, lieutenant governor; Stuart Hanson, social chairman.

The dinner meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m.

Baldwin Asks FCC Ban for Pay TV, Urges Legislation

"Strong opposition" has been expressed by many residents of Contra Costa and Solano counties to any pay television system, Congressman said this week in a letter to the Federal Communications Commission.

In a letter addressed to John Doerfer, chairman of the FCC, Baldwin stated that he had received a "large volume of correspondence from constituents" in the past few weeks expressing opposition to any pay TV plan.

The Martinez Republican urged the FCC to "refuse to grant any permits or licenses for pay television in any form."

"My constituents feel that television should be open equally to all those people who have purchased sets," Baldwin said. "They feel that there should be no necessity on the part of such set owners to pay additional charges in order to receive television programs."

The sixth district congressman also sent a letter to Congressman Oren Harris, chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, asking "early hearings" upon a bill designed to ban pay television.

Baldwin said that he desired to bring such legislation before the floor of the house as soon as possible.

Thayer Named New Assistant

Thomas G. Heaton, director of planning for Contra Costa County, announced today that the replacement for a past vacancy in the planning assistant category was filled last week by the arrival from Cleveland, Ohio, of Ray J. Thayer.

Thayer was secured through the original national recruitment program that the Civil Service Commission and Planning Department worked on in the last fiscal year. He comes to the County Planning Department with a long background of planning work.

Doyle, Masterson On 4 Committees

Both of Contra Costa County's assemblymen will be busy men between now and the next session of the State Legislature.

Assemblyman Donald Doyle, Lafayette Republican, and Assemblyman S. C. Masterson, Richmond Democrat, have each been appointed to four interim committees for the period of 1957-58.

Doyle again was named chairman of the education committee. He also was appointed as a member of the conservation, planning and public works; finance and insurance, and revenue and taxation committees.

Masterson was appointed to the ways and means; social welfare; revenue and taxation, and judiciary committees.

Committee Slates Study on School BondIndebtedness

A special interim subcommittee which will study the bonded indebtedness of school districts was formed this week by Assemblyman Donald Doyle, chairman of the Assembly Education Committee.

The subcommittee appointed by Doyle consists of three Democrats and three Republicans and will be chaired by Assemblyman Carley V. Porter (D-Compton).

SHERIDAN HEGLAND (D-La Mesa) chaired a subcommittee from 1955-57 which considered the bonded indebtedness problem.

"Bonded indebtedness of school districts represents a major area of financing in California," Porter declared.

"Great need for simplification exists in many parts of the present law," Porter said. Hearings are planned throughout the state, he said, with the first public hearing slated for September 26 in Los Angeles.

"OF COURSE, OUR primary desire is," he concluded, "that these hearings will result in legislative proposals which will be fair in every respect to all affected."

Evening School Fall Term to Begin Sept. 10

The fall term of the Mt. Diablo Evening School will start on September 10.

Advance registration will begin on August 26, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Students may register Monday through Thursday evenings at the Adult Education Offices, Mt. Diablo High School.

Classes will be held at Mt. Diablo, Pleasant Hill, and Pacifica High Schools, Loma Vista Intermediate School, and the Pleasant Hill and Concord Recreation Centers.

Instruction will be offered in the following fields: Art, English, Mathematics, Social Studies, Business Education, Crafts, Language, Physical Education, Industrial Arts, Trade and Industrial Education, Homemaking, Science, Parent Education, and Driver Education and Training.

Thigh of Mastodon Found Beneath Sewerage Plant

Who put the mastodon bone underneath Mr. Mott's sewer plant?

That's the question being asked — and answered — at East Contra Costa Junior College these days following the discovery of the tibia or thight bone of a mammoth or mastodon within a few feet of the Contra Costa Sanitary District Sewerage treatment plant north of the Arnold Industrial Highway.

THE BONE WAS discovered by workmen excavating to replace a present 39-inch single sewer line with two new 72-inch inlet lines.

A drag line broke the bone in half in the process of removing it.

The age of the bone is dated from 10,000 to 1 million years and is from the Pleistocene Epoch, the most recent geological epoch.

The exact worth of the discovery is not known, according to ECC geologist William Jones, but it "may be possible to learn more of the lime of the mammoth" from the study of the bone, he stated.

JONES, ACTING ECC director Ashley Stevens and Dr. S. P. Wells, principal museum paleontologist at the University of California, examined the fossilized bone.

Completely petrified, the bone weighs over 50 pounds and was displaced by a hard mineral.

"This accounts for the remarkably good condition of the bone," Jones said, "and does not necessarily mean that the fossil is of recent origin."

THE DISCOVERY is the fourth or fifth in the Bay Area, according to Robert Mott, superintendent of operations at the sewerage plant, parts of a mammoth were discovered in the summer of 1948 in almost the same spot.

Jones said that the three-foot long bone was imbedded in gravel of a waterway and was evidently carried down the waterway during the uplift of the coastal range.

Because of this, he said, the part discovered nearby — a fossilized femur bone found some 40 feet away from the larger fossil might or might not be from the same animal.

EAST CONTRA COSTA has informed University of California specialists of their find. After they're through with it, said Jones, ECC will probably patch up the relic and display it.

Tower Slated For Buchanan

A tower for Buchanan Field has been included in the establishment of an air navigation facilities program for the fiscal year of 1958, according to a letter received this week by Congressman John Baldwin.

Baldwin said he had received a letter from the Civil Aeronautics Administration stating that the tower could be erected by October 1, 1958, if "necessary operational funds" are available.

Doctors' Topic: Summer Hazards

The Herrick Memorial Hospital medical staff will begin its Second Annual Public Medical Panel Series Tuesday at 8 p.m. when it presents a group of doctors discussing "Summer Hazards." The program has been arranged by the medical staff's public education committee, chairman of which is Melvin Lipsett, M.D.

The public is invited to attend. There is no admission charge for the program, which will be held in the hospital library.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

"Having a wonderful time"

ONE OF OUR SUBURBAN LADIES, seeing Europe solo, sent the following postal to a friend—"Dear X, Now I KNOW I'm getting old. Have stopped noticing the men and STARTED noticing the scenery. Much lov, X". . .

NO RESERVATIONS NEEDED for the Bob Lesters, who'll take all the comforts of home right along w/them when they hie off on a Canadian holiday w/their ingeniously designed housetrailer along.

Crossing the Canadian border, too, are Gwen and Bob Magill and their children, who will visit Vancouver Island, as did the James Lewis family, which just recently returned from there.

Grace Kendall (of our Post Office) and Lillian Dorrington (who just retired after YEARS of service to our school district) had a well-deserved rest during a two-week vacation at Mt. Rainier Nat'l Park.

SAILING TOMORROW for the Islands are Henry and Wirtabel Harris and their dghtrs. Becky and Hester, all to be serenaded and dressed with leis as the Leilani sails into Honolulu. They'll idle at the "Islander" until Aloha time, getting back just ONE day before school opes! Aboard the Lurline, it's deck-chair sunning for the Joe Fazios.

"Wish you were here"

Tannest tans around town are tell-tale signs of a Tahoe summer . . . John and Nancy Van Dyne and their dghtrs. Dana, Duffy and Courtney have joined Yvonne and Jay Meyers and their trio for a family vacation at the Big Lake. The Bob Hendricksons are going BACK for MORE Tahoe, this time w/a stay at Zephyr Cove.

Irv and Helen Moore left the WILLOWS in good hands for a Tahoe guest-stay w/the Ted Cashas . . . Former Orindans, the Norm Pressleys were up from San Diego for a stay at their Truckee River cabin and joined the crowd at water-skiing at Carnelian Bay, which included the Ralph Kjars, Bill and Carey Indig, the Don Larues and Jerry Pixleys, who all have cabins there.

TAHOE-trekkers included the Bill Gilmores, Len Odenthals, Jack Higtowers and Michael Ferrones, to name a few.

George and Tess Thompson of Loma Vista chose Yellowstone and Lassen and the Phil Champions' choice was the Shasta region . . . The Del Browns are waterskiing at Donner and the Jack Behrs and the Bill Scatenas were among those yodeling for their youngsters in Yosemite.

The Clair Hardings and their two young sons visited grandparents for a week in Reno . . . The Biggest Little City on the summer slate for the Lance Bardens, w/Dorothy, we're sure, approaching a one-arm bandit like Queen Victoria inspecting the guard.

The Rudy Monosmiths are homeward-bound from Mississippi and pts. south . . . Esther Fjellbo drove in this week from a cross-country trip w/her daughter Pamela. The Jim Hupps are bow-wow sitting "Beaver," the little dog that belongs to the Stanley Hudds, who, w/their girls Tania and Joyce, are off to Tuolumne Meadows and nippy morning temperatures on a trip w/the SIERRA CLUB.

The Frank Newmans MUST have been at the Garden Party given by Queen Elizabeth II for visiting members of the American Bar Association . . . On return home from Europe, the Newmans will take up temporary residence in Palo Alto, where Frank will instruct law at Stanford.

Plain old stuff at $1.85 per———?

OVERHEARD AT THE MEAT DEPT: Little man to his Mother, who was TRYING to make up her mind for dinner—"Aw, let's just have plain old steak, Mom". . .

While at the other end of counter, 9-year old Miss was heard to holler—"Oh, Mother, PLEASE! Not hot dogs AGAIN!" . . .! !

THE TOP O' THE MARK on the menu for . . . Houseguests from Detroit for the Robert Boyles of Sleepy Hollow, who are entertaining Stella's aunt and uncle, the Henry Demchaks' during the month of August . . . The Eric Stones of Delano, Calif., who have been visiting w/Howard and Margare Fisher of Orinda Highway.

For the benefit of her Rug-Braiding friends, Margaret Fisher's lovely shaded patio, a veritable forest of fuchsias, has been the scene of Wed. workdays for the earnest ones . . . Like Ernestine Anglo, whose rug is now THAT big, being 27'x18' or some such mammoth measurement.

The Marvin Bonds family took time out between its Canadian capers and its Mexico-meanderings to pick out one of the slickets turquoise Thunderbirds you've ever enviably eyed. Which reminds us that the Jay Meyers T-Bird balls in the same car category—THEIR jazzy little sportsjob painted a perfect powder pink.

The Fred Burtons are showing movies of MONTY, their elegant collie. All 80 lbs of him "ham-acting" astride an airmattress in the waters at Bethel Island. Monty, whose full name is Lord Montague (and MORE maybe) is sort of a grandchild of ours, being one of Bonnie and Tam's brood.

We hadn't seen him for a year or so when one Sunday we spotted a handsome animal which looked (if you'll pardon us, Monty, old boy) like LASSIE of H'wood fame. When we recognized the handsome children around him as Dr. Burton's, that was all we needed. From a fresh young wet-nosed pup he's grown into a King of Collies. (Movie Agents, please note: He can "act." too!)

Blue ribbons and wedding bells

Virginia Howes and her daughter Sylvia returned home from Cazadero country just in time for Sylvia to whip up a cake entry for the county fair at Antioch, which won for her, along w/a sewing project, TWO BLUE ribbons . . . Rating ribbons, too, were Judy Hopkins, Judy Baker and Linda Hart, who all had 4-H entries.

THERE MAY BE "CONSERVATION" on the agenda, but certainly NONE on the food for the dinner meet planned by League of Women Voters members who are inviting husbands to join them Aug. 14 at the Walnut Creek Methodist Church.

From their bulletin—"Rather than have your husband arrive w/the dreadful feeling that he'll be fed creamed chicken in a patty shell or maybe a cottage cheese salad, we offer herewith the mnu—" which goes on to say, is fruit cup, roast beef, vegetable, potato and brown gravy, salad, hot rolls, butter, dessert, iced tea or coffee. Showing the Lady Leaguers think of everything—esp. husbands!

Johanna Liggett, lovely daughter of Sarah Malinowsky (she of the Orinda Library) is wearing a pretty diamond ring, having just become engaged to a Southern Gentleman, William P. Kavanagh Jr., who hails from No. Carolina.

WEDDING BELLS from St. Stephen's on August 30 for the marriage of Pat Courtright to Don Garrett . . . A bevy of showers for the bride-to-be, one given by her mother's friend, Etta Hill, and another by Pat's contemporary, Jerry Moriarity. Pat's parents, the Bill Courtrights, just back from a southern holiday, NOW knee-deep in plans for the nuptials of their eldest to the Lafayette man.

Jane and Bill are dispensing good wishes to many old friends of a trio of former Orindans w/whom they stayed down South . . . They were houseguests of George and Maray Matey, who now live in El Segundo; Stan and Beulah Hunt, formerly of Mariposa Lane, now of Covina, and enjoyed a stay in Sherman Oaks w/Bob and Mildred Clark. Everybody says "Hello" to everybody! What easier way than this?

FIRE PROTECTION is especially important during the summer period. Moraga Fire Chief Al Baitx (right) and Fireman Neal Haynes check with Mrs. John Tarpley of 264 Rheem Boulevard on her incinerator. They find it's OK—openingis not larger than one-quarter inch; a hinged lid. To be used during the season, an incinerator must have been inspected and approved by the Moraga Fire Department. It must be used in a cleared area, and only between sunrise and 11 a.m. No open burning is permitted. —Sun photo by Harry Maroulase

Moraga School Board Adopts $51,575 Budget

Meeting at Moraga School, trustees of the Moraga School District adopted a $51,575 operating budget Monday night, for the 1957-58 fiscal year.

Although the proposed budget which had been published prior to Monday night's budget hearing listed a total of $74,159 for General Fund total expenditures, transfers and balance, trustees pointed out that the sum of $22,584 should be listed as undistributed reserve rather than as total transfers, as in the published proposal.

Mrs. Elaine Read, board secretary, reported later that she had conveyed the board's thought on this point to the county superintendent's office, in a letter.

She explained that if the $22,584 is listed as undistributed reserve, the operating budget totals $51,575.

F. B. Glasky is clerk-chairman of the board. A regular meeting of the board will be held Monday night at Moraga School.

Ethel Benor Will Address Hadassah Unit

The new Diablo Valley Chapter of Hadassah announces that Mrs. Ethel Benor, executive director of the National Hadassah West Coast office, will be the speaker at a special program of the chapter Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. at the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, Lafayette.

Mrs. Benor has an outstanding record of achievement in Hadassah and other Jewish agencies. Born in the United States, Mrs. Benor spent 19 years in Palestine and Israel. During that time she returned several times to the United States in connection with her work.

Among her many achievements, Mrs. Benor was administrative assistant to Miss Henrietta Szold, founder of Hadassah and the Youth Aliyah movement, which rescued and rehabilitated almost 80,000 children from Hitlers' persecution.

The public is invited to hear her speak.

Refreshments will be served, and the charter and gavel will be presented to Mrs. John Cronin, president.

Canyon School Budget: $14,748

Canyon School District trustees adopted a $14,748 budget Monday night for the 1957-558 fiscal year at a public hearing at Canyon School.

The new budget compares with an $18,484.64 budget for the 1956-57 fiscal year.

John Shally is chairman of the district board. Mrs. Philomena is board clerk.

Behind-Scenes Space Sought By Dramateurs

The Dramateurs are looking for a suitable place in this area where they can build sets for their plays and do other essential technical work.

"We need such a place the year-round," Clarence Betz, the Dramateurs' business advisor, stated yesterday. "The organization would be wiling lto pay a modest rental fee for such quarters. A garage or shed might be very satisfactory."

Betz pointed out that such a location would not be used as a theater, but as a place for technical work. He asked that persons having any offers or suggestions get in touch with him by telephone at CL 4-4141 during weekdays or at CL 4-2833 evenings.

Carol Feldman Models at Show

Carol Feldman of Hillcrest Drive, Orinda, a sophomore at Mills College, was a Mademoiselle panel model at the Fairmont Hotel, San Francisco, yesterday.

Mademoiselle Magazine conducts this event annually with the girls representing college campuses.

Carol was one of a group of eight Mills students who spent a weekend at Carmel in June, modeling for a series of photographs for Mademoiselle. The article with these pictures is scheduled to appear in an issue next spring or summer and will be entitled "A Day on the Beach with Mills Art Students."

Carol is a merchandising major at Mills. Her course includes subjects in art.

At the suggestion of Miss Wiseman of Mills public information office, who accompanied the girls to Carmel, Carol tried out for the Mademoiselle panel model show and was accepted.

As part of the preparation, the girls were given a course at the House of Charm in San Francisco.

Mjolsnes Completes Artillery Training

Army Pvt. Edward P. Mjolsnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard O. Mjolsnes, 224 Camino Sobrante, Orinda, completed eight weeks of advanced individual artillery training July 26 at Fort Chaffee, Ark.

Mjolsnes received instruction in the fundamentals of artillery and the firing of the 105-millimeter howitzer. He entered the Army last September and completed basic training at Fort Ord.

The 17-year-old soldier attended Acalanes High School.

Work Started On Buehler's New Building

Work was started last Friday on Maynard Buehler's new building in the Planned Neighborhood Business District in Orinda.

At the same time it was reported that construction of the Win Husar building between the Buehler parcel and the Charles E. Phillips parcel (on which is the new Village Shopping Center) will get under way in about two weeks.

Husar was out of town this week, unavailable for immediate comment.

THE BUEHLER structure will house three stores plus offices. The three stores will occupy 3000 square feet on the ground floor. A half-basement in the rear, for offices for Buehler, will take up another 1200 square feet.

The stores are now available for lease.

The Buehler building will be coordinated with the Husar and Phillips structures—in design, parking facilities and access to the present Orinda Highway.

Buehler's building will be of contemporary design, with concrete block and redwood.

COMPLETION DATE of the Buehler structure is scheduled as December 1.

Architect for this project is David Coleman, who is also doing the architectural planning for the Husar building. Contractors for the Buelher building are Coleman and Smoot.

At the north portion of the Planned Neighborhood Business District along the west side of Orinda Highway, construction has started on the Associated gasoline station on John F. Snow's 3.62-acre parcel across from Orinda Community Center land just north of Irwin Way.

Toastmasters Active During Summer Season

Summer programs, often the enigma of active groups, have not been a problem to the Larinda Toastmasters.

The group was recently the guest of Diablo Toastmasters at their annual Past Presidents' Dinner at Turtle Rock Ranch.

Larindan Mel Shine was table topics master, starting the meeting out on a pleasant lighter vein.

Dunc Duncan, also of the Larindans, carried on in the nonserious approach with a clever evaluation of the table topic talks.

AT ANOTHER meeting, held at Casa Orinda, Dick Elliot was awarded the speaker's cup.

The rest of the summer will be sprinkled with both outdoor and indoor meetings.

Indoor meetings are held on Monday evenings at the Casa Orinda.

PRESIDENT GORDON Forrest reiterates that anyone interested in Toastmasters, or just wanting to know how and why a meeting is conducted, is most welcome to join the group.

Some memberships are still open. Forrest states that "a wonderful opportunity for self-improvement and social contact is there for the asking."

Contractors Tell of Recent Cash Dividend

A forty-two percent dividend on their workmens compensation insurance premium is being distributed to members of the County General Contractors Association who participated in the Association Group Policy with the State Compensation Insurance Fund.

"The 42 per cent dividend is for the policy year October 1, 1955 to October 1, 1956, and amounts to over $41,000," Association President John Osmundsen stated.

"With the present dividend, our Association members have received refunds of over a quarter of a million dollars on their compensation insurance during the eighteen years we have had such group insurance," he said.

Via Vespa Turns out Best Via for Three Young Girls

It all began on a European holiday for three University of California students, Gloria Retzlaff, her sister, Joyce and Patricia MacGregor, a lifelong friend of the two sisters.

What?

WHY, TOURING Europe of course on three Italian Motor Scooters . . . Not different enough for you . . . Well . . . They have also toured the United States and now, settled in Lafayette and Berkeley they date, go to school and even work on the novel little vehicles.

The attractive misses have taken advantage of seeing Italy, France, the Riviera, all "Via Vespa."

Gloria, Joyce and Pat all started out with a friend, "Pierre," a little car which had a ravishing appetite for gas (at $1 a gallon) and just couldn't make its way over the rough roads of sunny France and Italy.

Well, Pierre became a liability rather than an asset and with the proceeds the girls bought three Vespas— Topolino, (mouse), Machetio (kitten) and Lionino (lion cub).

For the next four months the girls wandered their way through Italy, Austria, all over the Alps with many exciting experiences.

"BY TRAVELING by Vespa, just as all the people do over there, we met many new people. There is a hidden barrier between many of the people and tourists brought about by large cars and money. This way we were friends with everyone on sight," said Gloria.

"By the time our European holiday cafe to a close we had become so attached to our Vespas, we decided to bring them home to the United States. What could be a better way to learn about our own country than to take a couple of months and tour the country from New York to California," she said.

Somewhere along their way, national magazines picked up the story of their travels via Vespa (vespa means wasp in Italian) and so the girls started receiving letters from places of which they had never heard and people whom they had never seen.

A great deal of interest was brought about by the girls on their trip across country and many Americans were surprised to find that the girls, whose scooters read "Italy to U.S. or Bust, "could speak English "so well."

Pat is now working as a nurse in Oakland, Joyce is in Berkeley and Gloria is employed by Don Blackwood,

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON A PROPOSED STATEMENT OF POLICY REGARDING THE APPLICATION OF SINGLE FAMILY RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS OF THE ZONING ORDINANCE IN CONTRA COSTA COUNTY.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Planning Commission of the County of Contra Costa will hold a public hearing on a proposed statement of policy regarding the application of single family residential districts, as described in the zoning ordinance, in Contra Costa County.

Said proposed statement of policy as follows:

It is the intention by this amending ordinance to revise the Residential zones of the County Zoning Ordinance, bringing them into harmony with each other and bringing them up to modern standards. This amending ordinance makes a substantial change in the Transition Residential Agricultural Zone and, for that reason, that zone is continued in existence. It is deemed inequitable to make a substantial change in the existing R-A zone all at one time since very large areas of the County have been placed in this zone. It is, however, the intention of the amending ordinance that ultimately the R-A Zone will, as far as possible, be eliminated and that lands now zoned R-A will be reclassified, as the facts of the case may warrant, into either the R-15 or the R-20 zone.

It is the intention of this amendment that lands now zoned Agricultural or lands which are to be classified into the new Residential zones shall not be classified R-A. From time to time, as conditions warrant, lands in the R-A zone will be reclassified, no new lands will be classified R-A and over a period of time the R-A zone may eventually be eliminated.

In determining whether lands now zoned R-A shall be rezoned to R-20, the preponderance of weight will be given to the desires of persons owning the property affected by the zoning, as against the representations of other persons in the neighborhood who may wish property of other individuals rezoned. It is further declared that by the adoption of these new zones, it is not intended that property now zoned R-A shall be zoned to R-10 or smaller lot sizes. Where properties are now zoned R-A and reclassification is being considered, a rezoning to R-10 or smaller lot sizes will not be encouraged even though the owners of the property affected may desire such rezoning, unless a substantial change in the characteristics of the neighborhood or a consideration of all factors affecting the land warrant such a change from the standpoint of the general welfare of the whole community.

Ordinarily subdivisions will not be approved in which there are a substantial number of lots below the standard lot size for the zone. It is the intention, as between the R-15 and R-20 zones, that the R-15 zone is considered more desirable under ordinary circumstances in developable land than the R-20, from considerations of the standpoint of total County welfare.

Said public hearing will take place on Tuesday, the 13th day of August, 1957, at the hour of 8:00 P.M. in the Hearing Room of the County Administration Building, corner of Pine and Escobar Streets, Martinez, California, whereat all persons interested may appear and make any petitions, presentations or protests.

Santa Maria Fiesta Set

Santa Maria's parish in Orinda will hold its second annual Fiesta and Barbecue on Saturday and Sunday, September 21 and 22, it was announced yesterday by Father David Harrington, pastor of Santa Maria's Catholic Church.

The two-day affair will begin at 1 p.m. and end at 10 p.m. both days. The Fiesta will include a barbecue steak dinner, bazaar and 12 booths for games.

Barbecue steak dinners will be served from 2 until 8 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Joe Navone of 58 Tara Road, Orinda, is the head chef.

General chairman for the Fiesta is Guy Catterton of 316 Camino Sobrante, Orinda; assisting him are John J. Blaney of 7 Overhill Road and Dave J. Spowart, who lives at 2 La Cresta Road, both of Orinda.

Committee members, all of Orinda, are: Walter Shepherd, Lloyd O'Connell, George Wheeler, Bob Neylan, Lee Schwarz, Ed McCormick and Al Scollard.

SHOCKS FOR SAFETY

The shock absorbers on your car not only make it ride more smoothly, they have a safety function as well. The primary job of the shock absorbers is to keep the four wheels in constant contact with the road surface. Have the shock absorbers on your car checked regularly.

Troop 120

Brownie Troop 120 was host at a Father-Daughter dinner recently at the home of its leader, Mrs. W. E. Christiansen, 18 Greenwood Court, Orinda.

After a program of games and songs, the girls were awarded their World Friendship pins.

During the past few months, studies have been made of the customs and habits of England, Ireland and Scotland, assisted by Mrs. Angus McCloud; Holland, Spain and Switzerland, Mrs. Fred Fowkes; China and Japan, Pete Kramm, and South America.

A special meeting was held at Luigi's Restaurant in Oakland where the girls enjoyed an Italian dinner, compliments of Valle Tire Company, and saw a number of Italian made toys. Chaperons included Mr. and Mrs. Christiansen, Mrs. Eugene B. Reid, co-leader, Mrs. Charles Ivy and Mrs. Karl Lehmann who also talked to the girls about Germany.

The Troop concluded its first year of Brownies with a nature hike and rock study under the direction of Mrs. John Glascock.

Members are Donna Beitler, Linda Christiansen, Beth Glascock, Debbie Hopper, Sandra Ivy, Kathy Montgomery, Chrissie O'-Rogers, Valerie Smith and Patsy Stevenson.

Rotarions Hear Of Early County

"Early Contra Costa County History" was the topic of Dr. Peter Conmy LL.B., Ph.D., at the Orinda Rotary Club's weekly luncheon meeting at the Orinda Willows Wednesday.

The guest speaker, who is director of Oakland Public Libraries, described the early rancho system and the early land grants. He told how Alameda County was carved out of Contra Costa County in the early 1860s.

Dr. Conmy was introduced by Joseph Langacre, program chairman for the day. The meeting was conducted by President Robeson Smith.

Next meeting of the club will be at 12:15 p.m. next Wednesday at the Orinda Willows.

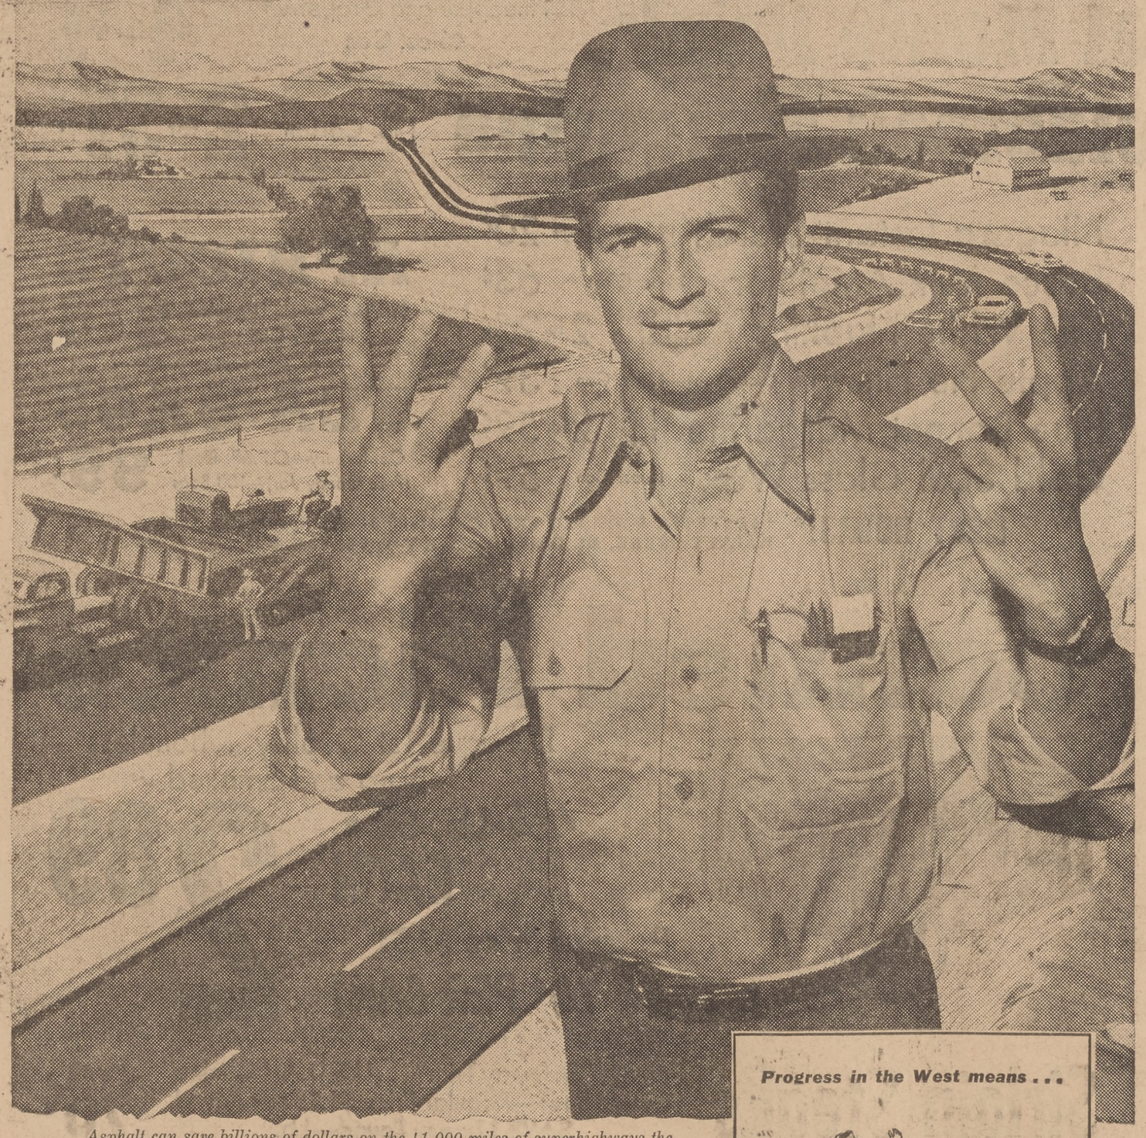
How Standard helps your tax dollars buy 3 miles of superhighway for the cost of 2



Asphalt can save billions of dollars on the 41,000 miles of superhighways the U.S. will build in the next 15 years

Heavy Duty Asphalt Costs 20% to 50% Less Than Other Pavements. This means extra miles of superhighways for your tax dollars . . . smoother, more enjoyable miles, too. Safe, skid-resistant asphalt cuts down headlight and sunlight glare, makes lane markers easy to see anytime.

To help bring you more miles of superroads faster and at lowest cost, Standard* operates nine asphalt refineries across the nation. Our scientists work with highway engineers on improved construction and low-cost maintenance methods that can make asphalt highways even better and stronger after years of service.

Progress in the West means . . .

over 50,000 miles of new and improved highways by 1970

Cooperation With Our Neighbors? Well, Maybe...

How do we Contra Costans feel about cooperating with our neighboring counties?

That is undoubtedly a hard question to answer, and one which needs some serious thinking.

The question comes up because of the passage of a new piece of legislation which permits two or more counties to create a regional planning district upon resolutions by the boards of supervisors of each county.

It also states that membership on the governing board shall be made up entirely of supervisors and councilmen from cities within the district.

The fly in the ointment is — as always — money. The bill provides for a maximum one-cent taxing power and that the work of the district shall be entirely advisory.

Five counties have been surveyed on the plan, but only one indicated it is ready and willing to participate. That is Santa Clara County.

Alameda and San Francisco Counties are willing, but not ready and Contra Costa and Solano stated that they are neither ready nor willing.

Our county Board of Supervisors was unanimous in its objection because of the taxing powers of the district. However, the board was split on whether there is a need for such a planning district.

It might be interesting and timely to consider the need, or desirability of such a district, and consider what it could — or could not — do for us.

We have been involved in joint-county districts before, and are now. Some are good, and some not so good. For instance, there can be little doubt but that the work done jointly by Alameda and Contra Costa Counties on the Broadway Low-Level Tunnel was a very good thing indeed.

This was an example of cooperation at its best . . . and when it was most needed.

On the other hand, we have the two-county rapid transit district. We are presently involved in that and indications are that Contra Costans will get very little out of it except the pleasure of helping to finance its operations.

Then there are such bodies as the Air Pollution District which includes most of the counties in the Bay Area, and which we too, support. This kind of body, which has been called the "smog control board" needs the scope of the entire area to make its work effective.

Obviously, it would do little good to control smog in Contra Costa County and leave conditions in Alameda County in such a state that it just blows quietly over the hills.

So in many cases cooperation is called for, and only then can effective action against a number of problems be taken.

On the other hand, as we have seen, sometimes it is not so good.

So where do we stand in regards to this piece of legislation?

Frankly, we don't know.

We think that if such a district could be set up without cost, we would be for it. Certainly no harm could come from a regional planning board which would discuss and coordinate problems, and act in an advisory capacity only.

Certainly there are many similar problems facing the nine counties of the Bay Area. We feel that a certain amount of coordination and joint planning would be a good thing.

But we certainly don't want the taxes to go any higher than they are now.

We are all for the idea of cooperating with our neighbors, and we feel that a joint planning board might be a good thing. But it would have to be organized carefully, and work within a definite framework.

The general attitude seems to be one of suspicion and doubt for the need of such a district now.

We agree that premature action is not warranted. But we suggest that an open mind be kept, on the grounds that cooperation with one's neighbors often solves a multitude of problems.

We suggest that the proposition be studied carefully.

Okay, Okay, So Some Elks (In WC) Will Pass A Bar

I wanna apologize to Elks. I have been informed that there are a large number in Walnut Creek that will pass a bar. I thought they were Odd Fellows!

I don't see anything wrong with social drinking (providing he's over twenty-one) but I, myself can't drink draft beer. I catch cold too easily. And even if I start out on Scotch, I can't keep from bourbon before the evening's over. If you think this a rye joke—try Samovar Vodka.

NEWS ITEM

The Atomic Energy Commotion has named Miss Sally Forth "Miss Rocket Ship of 1957." This is in honor of the "Gee! OH!" psysical year. Miss Forth is a perfect 36—Vital Statistics 36-36-36.

In answer to inquiries as to how I got this way and where I got my name:

I was born in Los Angeles down by the old street car barns near San Fernando Road. Living along the car lines made it easy for my mother to keep track of me and she always had a switch handy if I was naughty. I was born in Los Angeles primarily to be near my mother. A newborn baby sees things upside down for a few weeks until it gets adjusted. I never got adjusted.

My father was a conductor on the Los Angeles Railway and that's how he met my mother. They didn't have coin boxes on trolleys in 1914—the conductors did the collecting. That's how Dad collected Mother: He walked up to her and said:

"Your fare, Miss."

Mother blushed (girls did in those days) and replied:

"Do you really think so, sir?"

And so they were married and almost lived happily ever after excepting I was born. It took them so long to figure out just what I was they called me Pat Pending! Shortly after my appearance, my father quit the street cars; the company checked up and soon installed coin boxes. Just another cause of someone getting a shock from a good conductor!

Old timers still maintain that the reason Los Angeles expanded like it did was to get away from my birthplace.

* * * * *

I read in the San Francisco Examiner that it is against the law to climb trees in Roosha. This surprises me greatly. I thought that all top flight Communists live in trees. How else could they find themselves out on a limb all the time? I Moscow Russian off now!

Letters to The Editor

FALLOUT
DEAR EDITOR:

I believe that the letters printed concerning fluoridation of our water supply (pro and con) have been very valuable, and this space allowed by The Sun is in keeping with the public's right to knowledge.

The Sun papers have always maintained this basic tenet of journalism. It is little wonder then for your papers to receive the several awards given for good journalism over the past several years.

The public has a right to know also about another basic and deep problem facing us daily because of radioactive fallout from nuclear tests.

I WOULD LIKE to quote from Congressman Chet Holifield's article "Who Should Judge the Atom?" Representative Holifield as chairman of the subcommittee of legislation and a member of another subcommittee which reviews military applications of the atom, both subcommittees being part of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

He was, in May, 1957, named to preside over the first Congressional investigation into the effects of radiation on public health.

Here are some of his personal findings:

"My subcommittee heard a great deal of testimony from eminent scientists on the probable biological damage to be expected from various amounts of internally deposited radioactive substances.

"After listening to many experts disagree on this subject, I arrived at the conclusion that we need much more scientific knowledge. As a layman, I was somewhat shocked to find out how much the experts admitted they did not know.

"IN FACT, WHEN I thought over how little is known for sure, I wondered how some government officials could be so positive that bomb tests were safe.

". . . I believe from our hearings that the Atomic Energy Commission approach to the hazards from bomb test fallout seems to add up to a party line — 'Play It Down.' As custodian of official information, the AEC has an urgent responsibility to communicate the facts to the public.

"Yet time after time there has been a long delay in issuance of the facts, and oftentimes the facts have to be dragged out of the agency by Congress.

"CERTAINLY IT TOOK our investigation to enable some of the Commissions' own experts to break through the party line on fallout.

"We are now dealing with a global health problem. We must take steps to face up to this new problem and we must educate the public to the many fact finding prospects on radiation.

"We should get the facts out in plain language as fast as they are discovered."

I hope that your paper will encourage a discussion of this important public matter.

THOMAS E. KENDALL.

Letters to The Editor

FLUORIDATION
Dear Editor:

Grace Campbell challenged me to name the dozens of cities which have discarded fluoridation after having tried it. The list is too long to print but is shown as appendix 2 in "The American Fluoridation Experiment" by F. B. Exner, M.D. and G. L. Waldbott, M.D.

This book is available in the Orinda library. The list comprises 61 cities, among which are Martinez and San Diego, California; Coeur D'Alene, Idaho; Bangor, Maine; Saginaw, Michigan; Akron, Ohio; Kennewick, Washington; La Cross, Wisconsin to name a few.

THE VOTE MARCH 3, 1955 to discontinue in Martinez was 1,115 to 784. I understand about 15 more cities have discontinued since the book was printed and the list will continue to grow as the public learns the facts behind this fantastic promotion and begins to see through the propaganda sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Service at taxpayers expense.

I repeat, do we want something dozens of cities have tried and discarded?

Re. Mr. Leland's inference that it is only a small minority which opposes artificial fluoridation consisting of a few doctors, religious groups and natural food devotees: The U.S.P.H.S. recommends to its fluoridation promoters that they avoid a vote of the people or referendum if at all possible.

Why? Because experience has taught them that when the people get the facts on both sides of the controversy and it comes to a vote fluoridation usually fares poorly. A majority vote in opposition has forced discontinuance in a number of cities and rejection before it started in a great many more.

Even if the fluoridation promoters win it is usually by a small margin. Does this sound like only a small minority of food fadists and others is opposing this thing?

As stated on page 224 of the aforementioned book the following agencies either refused to endorse, withdrew their endorsement or openly warned against fluoridation. Texas Medical Society; Wayne County Medical Society in Detroit; New Orleans Board of Health; Spartanburg, S. C. Board of Health; Health Commissioner, Phoenix, Arizona; Mayor T. Tabor and thirty-three member advisory committee of Madison, N. J.

While I have no doubt many more cities will inaugurate fluoridation it will usually be in places where there is no organized opposition and no one has taken the time and trouble to expose the well thought out propaganda campaign of the Public Health Service.

CANCER QUACKS
Dear Editor:

I want you to know how very much the California Division of the American Cancer Society appreciated the editorial support given by The Sun to the Weinberger bill to stop cancer quackery in California.

Unfortunately, the anti-cancer quack bill was not enacted into law. As a result, it has become necessary for the people of California to double their guard against those who would exploit human misery for personal gain. We are fearful that defeat of the Weinberger bill may be taken by quack practitioners in other states as an invitation to extend their operations here.

Although the Weinberger bill did not pass, it forced the establishment of a well-financed legislative interim committee for study of the cancer quackery problem in this state. It is our hope that the committee will expose the tricks and deceits of the cancer quacks, thus stimulating public demand for the enactment of corrective laws at the earliest possible date.

In the meantime, I know that The Sun will continue to warn its readers against fraud, especially the type of fraud that threatens public health.

Mrs. ROGER GOODAN,

CIVIL DEFENSE
DEAR EDITOR:

My resignation as Director of Civil Defense for Contra Costa County has become effective. July 31 I assumed my new duties as Coordinator, Region 2, of the California Disaster Office.

For the past 25 months it has been my privilege to serve Contra Costa County as its Director of Civil Defense, and during this period of time the splendid cooperation I have received in carrying out my responsibilities has been deeply appreciated.

The wonderful support received from your newspaper has played an important role in furthering the Civil Defense program in this County.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to you and your staff for your cooperation.

Here Is Some Good News About Our Children

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Last week I received a report that during this summer juvenile vandalism and trouble had hit a new high. So today I called the Juvenile Bureau in the county sheriff's office and spoke to Juvenile Officer Bela Clark.

The report was wrong. Clark said there is not the problem they had last year. Vandalism around schools, for example, is much less. Clark spoke as if he had his fingers crossed, indicating he hoped the kids wouldn't read the story.

Incidentally, newspapers are often accused of playing up only the "bad things." I am pleased today to offer a good report on our juveniles. And I think it is equally news-worthy.

The usual — but no more

Officer Clark said we are having the usual teenage tricks — window breaking and damaging houses under construction. But it hasn't increased over last year. Since our population has increased, this is good news. Undoubtedly some of the credit should go to Clark, Police Lt. Robert Bohl and others who are assigned to juvenile work.

I asked Clark what teenagers need most — supervised recreation, teen-age centers, work programs?

He answered without hesitation. "They need more personal interest from their parents. Parents are too busy to spend time with their children. They should go to shows together, do things together, get acquainted with their kids."

This sounds like good advice.

Digging into the file . . .

After writing several paragraphs of this column, I remembered a clipping about teenagers. I am most impressed with it because it was published in the San Quentin News, the prison newspaper. Here it is:

"Come on over, kids! There's always room for one more . . .

"What happens to these young people who habitually violate the social norm?

"Not what happens to them the first time — not what happens to them for indulging in childishness . . . but what happens to them when these violations become easy and become felonies. What then? Right! They come here! And it happens every single day . . .

First Time Offense?

"Being convicted of the first felony marks a line of embarkation. Almost a point of no return — whether you like it or not. It seems a far cry from the mob treatment, the telephone calls, or hanging of effigies.

"Never let anyone tell you the two are not connected. Connected they are, and when they meet you're in trouble. You're on your way . . .

"So go right ahead, kids. Indulge yourselves and have a ball. Tell yourselves that what you're doing isn't very serious — and anyway, you're under age.

"Make doubly sure no one thinks you're a lame or a square or corny. And, above all, never let the gang suspect that you think at all. Don't be the one to call a halt, or refuse a dare, or decide things have gone far enough. That might indicate you didn't 'belong' . . .

Time to think

"Maybe some of you will read this. If you do, and are goofing around by yourself at the time, think it over.

"We haven't tried to be funny. We mean every single word of what we've said.

"However, if you reject it, don't worry. You'll never be without a roof over your head, or a place to sleep, or three meals a day. There's always an opening available at Point San Quentin. There's also a similar establishment in the southern part of the state for ladies.

"We'll be waiting for you. Have a ball."

FLUORIDE TABLETS
Dear Editor:

The pro-fluoridators certainly jumped on me when you published five of their letters and none on my side. I have all the data and facts which expose the cleverly designed propaganda of the U. S. Health Department; and it appears wrong to me not to inform the people about it.

The propaganda line says, tell the people it's safe, and inexpensive, despite the fact that many medical authorities have expressed grave doubts as to the cumulative effect of this poisonous sodium fluoride on the organs of the body.

I know that authorities can be cited on both sides of this point regarding safety, but why take a chance when sodium fluoride in controlled dosages to children under 8 years by those parents who wish to do so at a fraction of the cost of fluoridating the entire water supply, including expensive equipment installation, followed by corrosion repairs to mains, pumps and valves.

Under the alternate fluoride tablet method, older children and adults can choose for themselves whether they wish to take a chance of endangering their health rather than be forced to take this artificial medication.

The right of free choice is as it should be in this free country of ours. The sole function of a public water department should be to furnish safe, pure water at a reasonable cost.

To use the public water supply as a vehicle for administering drugs or chemicals, no matter how valuable the intended purpose is claimed to be, is not part of that function. Particularly is this true when that purpose can be better accomplished through alternative means.

Now Where Did That Come From?

By DICK OSBORN

Why are newspapers always printing rumors?

Well, the answer is, they're not . . . at least, not if they are responsible newspapers. And when they do print them, the rumors have usually been checked out through some reliable source, even if that source's name does not appear in the paper.

And what happens to the "rumors" which don't appear? Let's take a look at one that occurred in Walnut Creek a week or so ago. It is a typical example of the thing that newsmen are always tracking down.

A responsible official in the county government happened to mention to Sun staffer Bob Rapida that things were certainly "messed up" on the Walnut Creek Bypass.

He went on to mention that evidently the survey crews had gotten "fouled up" and that the State had purchased land that it should not have, and was trying to build on land that it had not purchased.

He even documented his story to the effect that a doctor in a certain medical building had been out in front with a shotgun warning off State surveying crews.

Well, this is too good a story to pass up . . . and it certainly would be of interest to everybody in our neck of the woods, considering the amount of freeway construction we have been undergoing.

So what happened? First came a series of calls to the State Division of Highways in San Francisco. Took four hours to get the top man. He was busy, and, we understood, in a conference discussing the Walnut Creek Bypass. Sounded promising.

Finally got him. Didn't know anything about it. Suggested we talk to the State right-of-way agent.

Shelved that call for a while, and called the County Public Works Department, figuring that if anything were off base, they should know about it. They hadn't heard a thing.

So, things begin to sound a bit fishy, and our original source doesn't check out with the people who should know.

But what about the doctor who was out with the shotgun? There should be some kind of story in that, even if it turns out to be entirely different from the original "rumor."

So we check on the owner of the land and the medical-dental building and Reporter Norm Colby checks out the rumor with him. Turns out that he had some difficulty because of the new freeway — but not at the site of the medical-dental building, and not with the state.

Seems that his trouble was simply an easement problem for a water pipe, and that it had been settled in short order with no fuss or muss.

So much for a rumor . . .

But it took a lot of man-hours to check the story out, and to find out that there was nothing in it at all.

How do these things get started? Who knows, but they certainly spread like wildfire. And who carries them? Why, all of us. Because we all enjoy discussing the "problems" of our area, and sometime, let's admit it, we aren't too sure of our facts . . . especially when they might ruin a good story.

But that isn't what gets into the newspaper. Printed stories are the result of checking and verification . . . not wild rumors.

But what about that story about the doctor and the shotgun . . .?

Guess nobody'll ever know.

ASSESSMENTS
Dear Editor:

It seems appropriate to comment on some newspaper statements being attributed to the County Assessor of Contra Costa County.

In The Sun for August 2, a quotation is made as follows: "We have gone into the books of each and every commercial enterprise and based all our assessments on book-value rather than on any rule of thumb method."

Since the term "book value" as it relates to equipment generally means cast of acquisition less allowance for depreciation, we believe that either the Assessor should correct his statement or he should instruct his deputy assessors to use true "book value" instead of the arbitrary "rule of thumb method" which they did in fact use.

AS MANY BUSINESSES know, this resulted in many overassessments.

In the same issue, the County Assessor appears to be championing the cause of the people by pointing out that a change in assessment practices by the Board of Equalization as it relates to utilities could mean a loss in revenue of $7 million by the County.

I am of the opinion that that is a misleading statement. Actually it would more properly be stated somewhat as follows: If the State changes its assessment policies, Contra Costa County will receive $7 million less from the utility companies and will have to raise an additional $7 million directly from the individual taxpayers.

BUT SINCE THE taxpayers have been paying the $7 million to the utilities which in turn pay it to the County, the new procedure would only be changing the name of the payee on the taxpayer's check from the utility company to the County Tax Collector. This is so, because, the Public Utilities Commission generally does hold profits to 6 per cent on capital invested in a utility as the Assessor correctly stated.

As to individual taxpayers, some would receive a benefit to the detriment of others depending upon whether they were using more or less of the utility services proportionately to their assessed valuation.

BUT THE TOTAL amount of money paid by Contra Costa taxpayers would remain the same.

Of course, the really bad thing about this proposed change (as far as elected officials are concerned) is that County tax bills paid by individual taxpayers would be higher and thus the citizenry might ask a few more questions as to whether it was necessary for the County to spend as much money as it is doing.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER
YE 4-3818

What a glorious day! Even Monday looks good—or I wonder if it might be because, at long last, I finally found someone who would really work on those weeds at home.

Why, oh why do they persist in reappearing all summer when, honestly, we don't water them?

Home from a weeks stay in the hospital is Gwen (Mrs. Joe) Grace. The older children are away at camp and the little one "farmed out" too—so the only sound heard around the Grace home is the click-click of Gwen's knitting needles—a pair of sox for friend husband.

Ah, peace! Al and Gloria Fraumeni and daughter, Lynnae, spent a few days at Yosemite and then went on to Elk to watch skin divers fish for prizes. (Contest for the biggest fish and the most caught.) The next day was spent in quest of abalone—amid very rough weather.

Lynnae was so taken with this sport that she is urging her father to outfit them both so that they might join in the fun.

I bid one boy . . . oops! . . . one heart!

Nora (Mrs. Robert) Cook is patiently (?) awaiting the arrival of Mr. Stork. To help pass the time away, she had a foursome for bridge the other day. Nora is a "Hummingbird" as was one of the guests, Marilyn (Mrs. John) Bradley.

Cheri Pratt, who is 11 today, has been a busy girl of late. She is the daughter of Francis and Horace Pratt of Walnut Creek. Cheri spent one wonderful week at Mt. Hermon in the Santa Cruz Mountains. Last night she was baptized and also joined the Presbyterian Church in Concord.

NOT LONG AGO, Cheri was feeling under the weather and her mother suggested that she entertaain herself by writing a play. With two other little girls—she followed through with this idea (mothers—take note) and the results were that 20 children and four adults were invited to gather on the patio for the finished product.

The girls concocted their own costumes, memorized their lines and gave a play in five acts—complete with screamingly funny commercials thrown in. The adults were speechless when the girls appeared as their own mothers. They probably got quite a shock.

Pass the hammer and square, mate.

Adding a family room to their already perfect home is keeping Marge and Newt Warburton's nose pretty close to the hammer and square rule this summer. Not so, daughter Diane. An exciting flight to Jasper National Park and Scout Camp, plus a new pool in the back yard add up to a very exciting summer for her.

Mary and Sherm Sibley are enjoying their idea of a perfect vacation. They are at Lake Almanor with nothing to do all day but fish, swim and "laze" in the sun for two weeks. Lib and Joe Tessler, with young son Dennis, are relaxing under the pines and sun at Lake Tahoe. Elder son, Larry, keeps working at his summer job—but with the consolation prize: the use of his father's Thunderbird for the week.

Sounds good to me, too! (ed: note)

Le May and Bill Walden and their children are planning a leisurely trip up the coast to Oregon—stopping at any place that "looks good" and staying there as long as they please. Somehow, that sounds awfully nice!

Nanette and Joe Briley (that loved and respected sister and brother team who live on Acacia Road in Sun Valley) have had a house full of happy visitors lately. First of all, their adorable little niece, Stacy Leeseman from Inglewood has been with them for over a month. Then for a week's stay, another niece, Mrs. Leslie Hickman and her three children, Ken, Jim and Shirley were here from their home in Lancaster, Southern California.

THEY, WITH the addition of Mr. Hickman, had spent several weeks in Iowa. The Brileys are famous in Sun Valley for, among other things; huge popcorn balls on Halloween, very special Valentines for the youngsters, beautifully decorated and filled Easter baskets, and their traditional front yard Christmas trees which can be spotted as one turns off of Mt. Diablo Boulevard onto El Curtola Drive; a cheering holiday beacon for their many friends and neighbors.

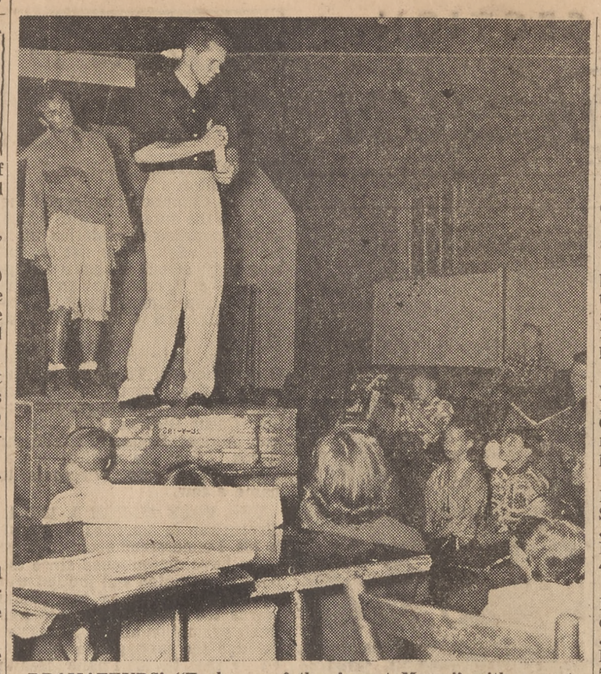
Don't Shoot! It's a racoon coat!

Maxine (Mrs. Lew) Doty and Molly (Mrs. John) Sullivan are that excited these days over the plans for the "Pandora" Chapter's (Children's Home Society) big party to be given September 7. This sounds as if it will be quite an undertaking—but if we know that group—it will be a huge success. "The Roaring Twenties" is the theme and will be carried out with appropriate decorations, sheet music and the like. The setting will be the Roy Beckett home on Hacienda Circle in Orinda where the lower gardens will be converted into a Beer Garden in which the guests will enjoy music and dancing.

The large upper patio will take on a Speak-easy-ish look and it is hoped that many will have successfully resurrected clothes from the "20's"—raccoon coats, straw hats, "those" dresses and of course the ropes of beads which drip to the knees.

AS FOR ME—I'm practicing up on the Charleston like mad. Just talked with Jane (Mrs. Wayne) Haas—that lovely gal who does such a wonderful job of modeling for so many worthy causes. She and her 14 year old son, Stephen, have just returned from a trip to Southern California. They visited with her family in Los Angeles for two weeks and then toured to heavenly Lake Arrowhead for a week's stay. A highlight of their vacation—a day at Hollywood Park!

Well—I'd like to swim, golf or rest right now—but it's home to prepare for a birthday party tonight instead. Bye now.



DRAMATEURS' "Teahouse of the August Moon," with a cast of almost 40, is helding forth at Lafayette Town Hall. Sakini (left), played by Eddie Woltz, and Capt. Fisby, played by Bob Holm, go through their paces during a rehearsal. Final performances will be given tonight and tomorrow night. Curtain time is 8:30.

Goat Makes Stage Debut As Lady Astor

Heidi made her debut with the Dramateurs as Lady Astor, the goat, in "Teahouse of the August Moon" when it opened at Town Hall, Lafayette, last Friday evening.

This "charming" lady goat is a "kissing cousin" to the Lady Astor, who played in San Francisco with the professional company. She comes from the goat ranch of Margaret Dean in Walnut Creek.

The Dean ranch furnishes goats for dramatic productions, and apparently has its stars well trained for public appearances.

Dramateur members Norma and Bee Betz have taken over the custody of Heidi for the duration of the production of "Teahouse," and the lady has fine quarters at the Betz residence in Orinda, besides a luxurious ride back and forth in a station wagon.

Incidentally, Heidi is in the "family way." Who knows but what there will be more than one goat to return to the Dean ranch at the duration of the performances.

In spite of her delicate condition, Heidi is enjoying every minute with the Dramateurs, and is right there for her curtain call each performance.

ENERGY OUTPUT

The weekly energy output of petroleum in the United States has been estimated to exceed 40 hours' work of 22 billion people. That is ten times the total population of the world.

Dr. Baughman, Mrs. Follmer Wed in Berkeley

In Berkeley August 1 Dr. Howard Baughman of Concord claimed as his bride Mrs. William Follmer of Lafayette.

The simple ceremony took place in the Babcock Room of the North Congregational Church of Berkeley.

Dr. Hubert N. Dukes performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by family and close friends.

Following a trip through Oregon, Dr. and Mrs. Baughman will reside in Concord.

Dramateurs to Hold Auditions Tuesday Night

Auditions for the Dramateurs' fall production will be conducted at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Fellowship Hall, Orinda Community Church, President James Harris of the Dramateurs announced yesterday.

At the auditions Director Carl Rasmussen will announce three plays, one of which he will select, based on available talent. An adequate technical staff will also be an important factor, Rasmussen points out.

Those trying out are asked to bring previously prepared material, if possible. The fall production will be given October 11, 12, 18 and 19 at the Berkeley Little Theater.

Whisler, Bigelow Wed In Concord Ceremony

Marriage rites at the First Christian Church of Concord on July 20 united Janice Young Whisler and Michael Lloyd Bigelow.

The services were conducted by Reverend Bruce Jones before an altar decked with large white baskets of stock, gladioli and candelabra with white tapers.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bigelow, 105 Pleasant View Drive, Pleasant Hill, and is a 1954 Mt. Diablo graduate. He attended East Contra Costa Junior College for a year and Chico State for a further year before joining the U. S. Army which he presently holds the rank of private first class.

He has just completed a course in the Army School of Languages at Monterey and has been assigned for duty in Germany.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Whisler of 3701 Las Flores, Pleasant Hill. A Mt. Diablo High School graduate with the class of 1957, she was a sealbearer of the California Scholarship Association, a member of the Rally Committee, and a member of the Mt. Diablo band for four years.

She hopes to attend East Contra Costo Junior College.

Janice was given in marriage by her father in a double ring ceremony at 8 p.m., before some 75 relatives and friends. Her gown was of white lace over satin with a scalloped neckline, ballerina length skirt and cap sleeves.

Her finger-tip veil fell from a scalloped crown trimmed with pearls.

She carried a lace covered Bible with three white orchids and a cascade of ribbons entwined with lily-of-the-valley.

Bridal attendant Ruth Felt of Concord, a classmate of the bride, wore a turquoise, crystalline princess-style gown with a pearl-trimmed scoop neckline.

Her headdress was of the same material trimmed with pearls and a short veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations.

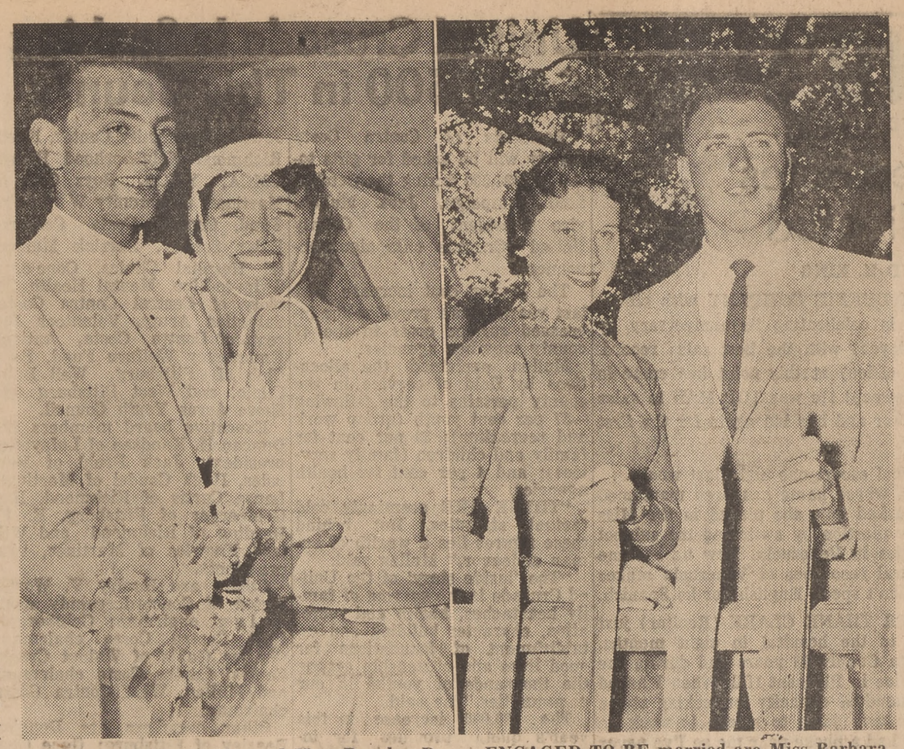
For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Whisler chose a beige suit with white accessories and a corsage of white Vanda orchids. The pink stripe on white, polished cotton gown, white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Best man was Les Frederickson of Concord, and Everett Traverso, friend of the bridegroom, and Wililam Whisler, the bride's brother, served as ushers. Special bridal music was played by organist Harry Leonard.

A reception followed the wedding, held at Fellowship Hall at the church supervised by Mrs. Eunice Carpenter, youth director.

For her going away costume the bride wore a turquoise suit with white asseccetaoiG1HRDL with white accessories. The newlyweds will honeymoon at Lake Tahoe and the Santa Cruz mountains before returning home in time for the benedict to report for overseas duty.

They expect to make their first home in Germany.



NEWLY WEDS are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dakin of Walnut Creek. They were married July 28 in Danville Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was attended by relatives and friends. A reception was held at the Alamo Women's Club, Alamo.

ENGAGED TO BE married are Miss Barbara Lee Lawrence and Ronald Edward Wilbur. They have known each other since they were in sixth grade of Lafayette Grammer School. The wedding will take place in the fall of 1958. Ted Gurney photo

Joan Hoffman Wedding Set

Hillcrest Congregational Church in Pleasant Hill will be the scene at 2 p.m. tomorrow for the wedding between Joan Hoffman and Russell Hutchins.

Miss Hoffman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoffman, 185 Vivian Drive, Pleasant Hill while the future benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hutchins of Oakland.

Reverend A. Ray Petty will officiate at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. John Arata of San Francisco will be matron of honor, and bridesmaids will include Mrs. James Pryor of Woodland, Mrs. Carl Helstrom and Mrs. Albert Fraschieri, and the bride-to-be's cousin, Mrs. Ruth Stewart of Rocky River, Ohio.

Flower girl will be Mari Lynn Mass of Pleasant Hill.

Best man duties will be carried out by the bridegroom-elect's brother, Sam Hutchins of Oakland. The ushers are to be Albert Fraschieri and Gordon Dodson of Pleasant Hill, and Mike Corker of Orinda.

The garden at the bride's home will be the setting for a reception.

Miss Hoffman graduated from Pleasant Hill High School in 1956, and is now employed by Lloyd's of London in San Francisco. Her husband-to-be also is a Pleasant Hill High graduate of the same year.

He attended East Contra Costa Junior College and is now an employee of Pacific Telephone.

Theta Alumnae Discuss Plans

The Diablo Valley Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae held a summer meeting yesterday afternoon to discuss plans for the coming year.

The 12:30 p.m. gathering was at the home of Mrs. Robert J. Pedder, 4163 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

All Theta alumnae were invited to attend and join in a swim. Each member brought a sandwich. Drinks and dessert were furnished by the hostess and cohostess, who was Mrs. Channing Jones of Lafayette.

Barbara Lawrence Is Engaged

Recently announced to friends and neighbors at an open house given by the future bride's parents was the engagement of Barbara Lee Lawrence to Ronald Edward Wilbur.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Lawrence of Reliez Station Road, Lafayette, and Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wilbur, also of Reliez Station Road.

Daughter and son of neighboring families, the newly affianced pair have known each other since they were sixth grade students at Lafayette Grammer School.

The engagement was previously announced by the traditional passing of candy to Barbara's Alpha Theta Tau sorority sisters at College of the Pacific, where she has just completed her sophomore year. She has served as treasurer of the sophomore class, historian of the Associated Women Sudents, and extension chairman for the Pacific chapter of Spurs, national sophomore women's honorary society.

Ron attended East Contra Costa JC and the University of California. Both are 1955 graduates of Acalanes High School.

No definite date has been set for the wedding, which is planned for the fall of 1958.

Attending were Messrs and Mesdames Arthur Herring, Andy Anderson, Bill Schrader, Ken Webster, John Laconis, Wally Tyacke, Bob Sherman, Bob Bradley and the host and hostess, Mr.

Country-Style Will Be Theme Of Mayten Party

A "Make Mine Country Style" theme is in store for members and guests of Mayten Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay, on Saturday evening, September 28, at the Veterans Memorial Building in Lafayette.

Mrs. Roger Patterson heads the committee planning the 8 p.m. event, which will have and old-fashioned country fair flavor featuring booths stocked with tempting canned goods and pastries, all homemade by branch members.

Adding another nostalgic touch will be a barbershop quartet, which will share the entertainment spotlight with a square dancing exhibition.

THE DANCE FLOOR will be gaily decorated for dancing throughout the evening.

Mrs. Richard H. Neddersen is chairman of the decorating committee, assisted by Mesdames Roger V. Willett, William R. Wignall, Anthony Yriberri, Robert Stewart and Thomas F. Kling.

Mrs. Frederick G. Cook is in charge of the food department, with Mesdames Ross Mainwaring and Myron Osmunson as her assistants.

PLANNING THE entertainment are Mrs. Edward F. Winthers, Mrs. Edward A. Patterson and Mrs. Thomas Kallam.

Reservations for the hospital benefit party, where jeans and cottons will be the vogue, may be made through Mrs. Albert Johnsson, CL 4-5002, or Mrs. John Everett, CL 4-2685.

Local Girls Visit Hawaii

Enrolled in the six-week summer session at the University of Hawaii this year are Miss Anne Louise Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Howard of 2385 Walnut Boulevard and Miss Barbara Engstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Engstrom of 280 Lucinda Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Each year students from mainland United States, representing nearly every state of the Union, come to Hawaii to participate in the summer program of the University.

Mrs. Ferrell Places 2nd in Albers Contest

Mrs. James R. Ferrell, 247 Manzanita Drive, Orinda, was notified last week that she has won second prize in the recent Albers Milling Company's nationwide G. E. kitchen contest.

For her statement explaining why she likes Albers Oats, Mrs. Ferrell receives an automatic clothes washer, a high speed dryer and a year's supply of washing powder.

When informed of her winning by Robert D. Panzer, Albers district sales manager, Mrs. Ferrell said this was the biggest prize she has ever received.

Mother of two youngsters, Mrs. Ferrell is active in St. tSephen's Episcopal Church (Orinda) affairs. Mr. Ferrell is manager of the Richmond Teachers Credit Union.

"I mailed in four entries, hoping to win a hand mixer," Mrs. Ferrell said. The mixer was one of the lesser prizes.

"So, naturally, I'm quite surprised — and delighted — at winning the big second prize."

The two Ferrell children are Pamela, and Brian, 3.

Contest blanks were obtained at grocery stores. Contestants wrote statements on why they like Albers Oats.

Diane Drumb to Wed Richard Osmundsen Soon

Announcement was made recently of the engagement of Richard Osmundsen and Diane Drumb, at a dinner party at the home of his mother on Alpine Road in Wanut Creek.

Richard and Diane have made plans to be married at Corpus Christi Church in Piedmont, September 14. The reception is to follow at the Claremont Country Club in Berkeley.

Diane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drumb of Vancouver, Canada, and is at present living in Berkeley. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. Richard and Diane met while attending classes at the University of California.

Richard is the son of Mrs. Alice Osmundsen and the late O. A. Osmundsen, who was well known in real estate and building activities here. He is a graduate of Acalanes High School and the Univeristy of California at Berkeley.

Richard is in the construction business with his brother John Osmundsen, well known buider of Contra Costa County, who will also act as best man for his brother.

Richard and Diane plan to live here in Walnut Creek after returning from their honeymoon.

Pauline Aitken Marries Douglas Bruce Dakin

Rites at the Danville Presbyterian Church united in holy wedlock Dougas Bruce Dakin of Danville and the former Pauline Mary Aitken of Walnut Creek.

The couple will reside at 1774 Parkside Drive, Walnut Creek.

Reverend Irwin Askins performed the ceremony.

THE BRIDE wore a white bouffant full length gown of Bombazene silk over skinners satin, a fitted bodice embroidered with irridescent sequins and seed pearls outining the sabrina neckline.

The fitted full-length sleeves came to a point over her hands. The finger-tip veil of French illusion pet cascaded from her modified pillbox cap, made of a piece of heirloom lace, a gift for "something old" from the bride's namesake, Mrs. Arthur Barnett of San Francisco.

She carried stephanotis and split carnations centered with a large white orchid.

Maid of Honor was Miss Sally Jean Cox of Hollywood. She formerly lived in Danville, and was a classmate of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Caro Pearson of Pittsburgh and Miss Lynn Muzzini of Walnut Creek, a cousin of the bride.

WILLIAM CARPENTER of San Diego was best man, he is a former classmate of the groom, and is now serving with the U.S. Navy.

Sherwood Batt of Walnut Creek, a former classmate of Douglas, and Douglas' brother, Donald ushered.

Soloists was Miss Claudia Andreasen, a former classmate of the bride.

Pauline's going-away costume was a pinpoint black and white check ensemble, sheath and jacket, black patent purse and shoes, white hat and gloves, and a white orchid corsage.

OUT-OF-TOWN relatives who attended included Mrs. Mary Burgess of Eureka, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and and Mrs. Herbert State of Eureka, aunt and uncle of the bride, and Mrs. Charles Evans of Jacksonville, Fla., aunt of the groom.

The bride is a dental assistant, and graduated in June from East Contra Costa Junior College with an Associate of Arts degree. She was a member of the student council and of Alpha Gamma Sigma.

Mr. Dakin attended San Jose of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. State College, and was a member He is now employed by a chemical company in Pittsburgh.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dixon Aitken of 1210 Laverrock Lane Walnut Creek, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dakin of 485 Verona Avenue, Danville.

Local Women Will Be Models

Mrs. William Keating of Lombardy Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay, and Mrs. Mel Nielsen, Walnut Branch, will be guest models on September 11 for the annual fall fashion show of Mulberry Branch at Castlewood Country Club.

"Vintage 1957" has been selected as the theme for this premier showing of fall fashions by Roos Brothers and Spitzer Furs.

Stravinsky to Conduct in SF

Igor Stravinski, celebrated contemporary composer, will be a guest conductor with the San Francisco Symphony next season.

The Russian-born composer, whose 75th anniversary is currently being observed throughout the musical world, last appeared with the orchestra here in December, 1950.

His program, as yet not released, will be devoted entirely to his own compositions from several periods.

Stravinski, a pupil of Rimsky-Korsakoff, won his first recognition through his association with ballet impresario Serge Riaghilev for whom he wrote the now famous "Firebird," "Petrouchka," and "Rite of Spring."

Former San Francisco Symphony conductor Pierre Monteux was in the pit for the premieres of the two latter works.

Mysterious Brown Spots Are Harmless

Housewives in the Walnut Creek area are being assured by the Health Department this week that the strange brown spots appearing on drying laundries, car roofs and houses are not caused by air pollution, but by honey bees flying back to hives after feeding on eucalyptus pollen.

According to Dr. H. L. Blum, County Health Officer, bees feed on the pollen, stop for a drink of water and drop the brown material while in flight. The spots are completely harmless and are not a hazard to human health.

During an investigation in 1953, the Health Department and the State Bureau of Adult Health identified the substance.

This natural phenomena occurs mainly in late summer and early autumn in areas where bees are kept. The brown spots, about one-fourth inch in diameter, are water soluble and can be easily washed away.

A Clean Sweep Sales Record Is Indicated

By LLOYD K. KING

70TH YEAR . . . MASON-McDUFFIE COMPANY with offices in the East Bay and Lafayette is celebrating its anniversary by having a prize contest for employees with the best sales record. GEORGE PITTMAN (Lafayette office) at this point has come in with a broom to signify a clean sweep! He was TOP MAN in sales for the entire organization last year and has led again for the first two quarters of this year.

MISS VENEZUELA had a local escort one night last week . . . an Orinda mortgage loan broker, whose name has been mentioned too often in this column. When asked how she placed in the Miss Universe Contest he avoided the question by switching the subject to the fabulous new oil discoveries in Venezuela. How he became educated so quickly on the natural resources of Venezuela makes me curious . . . the young lady didn't speak English nor he Spanish.

PLEASANT HILL'S PIONEER THANE CLARK (Realtor) just returned from his second visit to the hospital in eight months. THANE has been in Contra Costa County 35 years and during the last eight years has made his office in Pleasant Hill. When I asked Thane (an ex-Kansan with a tremendous capacity for looking at the brighter side of things) when he was going to return to work he laughted and said: "I've always had a phone near me so I've never been AWAY from work."

Plans are being formed for a community near Walnut Creek which will be only for those over 60. The idea has tremendous social significance for those people whom our society has so grossly neglected. This project is still in the planning stages, but if the developer is successful at least 100 homes will be built with all facilities including work shops, gardens, movie theater and commissary—a completely self-contained and corporation-maintained development. Securing a site of approximately 60 acres is the next step in this project.

There is more money in this area than most people realize . . . DICK HURLEY, manager of the Walnut Creek branch of Berkeley Savings and Loan Ass'n just announced that his branch has just passed $5,000,000 in savings.

THE BAY AREA REAL Estate Research Council has issued its quarterly report for the first three months of 1957. The report analyzes the cost of a small minimum-type single family dwelling. Significantly the drop in cost from January 1 to April 1 was 4 per cent. The greatest drop fas in electrical sub-contracting. This house, which cost $12.08 a square foot in January, had dropped to $11.63 a square foot in April. Don't be heartened, however, by the thought that the costs of new homes are going down. This drop most people think was attributable to the drop-off in "new starts" and subsquent sharpening of pencils by materials dealers and sub-contractors—now things should be on their way back up again!

State Fair Preparations Speeded as Opening Nears

Scores of departments at the California State Fair and Exposition, scheduled August 28-September 8, have stepped up activities as the big show nears, it is announced by Alvin F. Carveth of Auburn, president.

Plans for the night show have been completed, and the lineup of entertainment elsewhere is virtually so. Construction of booths in the huge Counties Building has started, and nearly all space has been spoken for in other exhibit areas.

Crews are busy grooming lawns shrubbery and flower beds, all of which will be at their peak of beauty when gates swing open on the morning of August 28.

THE FAIRGROUNDS has become a city within a city, which, by opening day, will be expanded to include even a post office, police station, fire station, bank and telephone office.

Plans are progressing in the annual Maid of California Contest, to be held August 25 as a prelude to the Fair.

A Maid of California and 10 runners-up will be selected from a field of more than 50 beauties, with the Maiden to be named and crowned in opening day ceremonies, attended by the other finalists.

TEN NATIONS announced they would show products in the Woman's Building, in a shift from the Counties Building, where in past years they have displayed industries, arts and crafts.

They are Finland, Pakistan, Japan, Sweden, Italy, Germany, United Kingdom and Benelux — the latter a three-nation group consisting of Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

International cookery demonstrations will be held in the building each day.

A NUMBER of top stock car race drivers have announced they will compete in a championship 100-mile on the fair's second Sunday.

Included are such "name" racers as Eddie Pagan of Lynwood, West Coast leader in National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing point standing; Dick Getty, Pacoima, and Bob Ross, Lakewood.

THE ART BUILDING show, one of the fair's top features, this year will include 217 fine arts selections from more than 900 entries.

"Stylorama" has been elected as name for twice-daily fashion shows, at 2 and 7 p.m., in the Woman's Biulding in which leading California manufacturers will parade stylings before they are placed in retail outlets.

United Crusade Is Seeking $494,500 in This County

Residents of Contra Costa County will be asked for gifts totaling $494,500 during the October fund campaign, Jack Mullen, vice president of the County United Crusade campaign, announced.

The 21 per cent increase over last year's quota provides for increased service costs in the 47 county member agencies.

Mullen explained the allocations by field of service in the county pertains to the following —57 per cent youth (group work and recreation); 39 per cent for family and children (family services); and 4 per cent for health agencies.

"THESE ARE seemingly cold factual statistics. But behind these figures lies a wealth of human endeavor," Mullen said.

"The 'inside story' of the United Crusade is the sparing of family heartaches, health and recreation, character building and establishment of foundations for good lives and citizenship among the thousands of youths in our communities," he said.

The $86,000 increase in this year's quota provides for increased service costs in the 47 existing agencies reflecting expanded service and population increases varying in the west, central and east sections of the county, he added.

County agencies are Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundations, American Red Cross, West Contra Costa, Central Contra Costa, East Contra Costa, Carquinez Chapters, U.S.O., Boy Scouts, Boys Club of Richmond, Boys Club of El Cerrito, Camp Fire Girls, Catholic Social Service, Cerebral Palsy Society of Richmond, Mental Health Society of West Contra Costa; Richmond-El Cerrito Community Chest and West Contra Costa Welfare Council and Girl Scouts.

OTHERS ARE Herrick Hospital Clinic, San Pablo Boys Club, Jewish Community Center, North Richmond Neighborhood House, YMCA, YWCA, Boys Club of Martinez, Community Welfare Fund, Contra Costa Cerebral Palsy Society, Herrick Memorial Hospital Clinics, Concord Swim-to-Live, Mental Health Society of Central Contra Costa, Salvation Army, Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa, Antioch Emergency Welfare Fund, Boys Club of Pittsburg, Well Baby Clinic, and West Pittsburg and Shore Acres Youth Council.

Executive board members are Duncan H. Knudsen of Lafayette, president; Jack Bruhl of Hercules, Hugh Caudel of Martinez, Lanse Curtis of Richmond, Ben Goldberger of Pittsburg, E. F. Harding of Richmond and Willard Knowles of Martinez, vice presidents.

Others are Henley V. Worthington of Concord, county campaign chairman; Goldberger, East Contra Costa chairman; Charles Gable of Walnut Creek, Central Contra Costa chairman; and Mullen, West Contra Costa chairman.

Other members are Douglas Beasley of Pittsburg; Gene Cecchini of Antioch, James Dent of Concord, Craig Dill of Richmond, Felix Dumond of Martinez, H. W. Forsey of Concord, J. P. Gustafson of Lafayette, Al Jusiastis of Crockett, L. C. Keading of Richmond, Keorge Kelty of Martinez.

Joe Lentine of Antioch, Oscar Larson of Concord, Kenneth McPhee of Richmond, Floyd Reis of Pittsburg, Judge Joe Silva of Brentwood, Kenneth Smith of El Cerrito, Blair Spires of Antioch, Bruno Stolley of Martinez, Ed A. Valentino of El Cerrito, Mrs. Grant Warren of Martinez. Also A. D. Williams of Richmond is executive director.

THANKS for the MEMORIES

Contra Costa!

Never in our wildest dreams
did we expect
such a wonderful, exciting reception!
You've made us feel so much at home that we may be over to borrow a cup of sugar any day now!

Most of all, though, you ooh-ed and aah-ed about our (no, your) beautiful new store, and you seemed as excited about the tremendous selections of merchandise throughout the store as we were.

So — THANKS for the memory of friendly handshakes, happy smiles, exhuberant shoppers and (we can't tell a lie)
of those lovely cash registers ringing like mad!
We'll never, never, NEVER forget!

WC, Concord in State Tournament

Diablo Drug Is Victor in Local Championship

Diablo Drug of Walnut Creek came from behind to whip Concord Electrics 2-1 in the last inning of the Contra Costa softball championships at Pittsburg City Park August 1, but both teams will represent the district in the state softball tournament in North Sacramento which starts today.

Concord was chosen for the tournament along with the championship Walnut Creek outfit when the Contra Costa district was awarded the at-large berth in the tourney.

RHEEM CENTER blasted Concord Shopping Center 13-4 in the preliminary game for third-place honors.

In the double-elimination state affair, Diablo Drug will add Rheem's Ken and Dick Gerner to their team while Concod Electrics will be strengthened by Concord Center's Dick Norenberg and Catalina Builder's Fred Hernandez.

Terry Taylor gave the Electrics a 1-0 second inning lead which stood up until the seventh and final inning of play. Taylor's double drove across Larry Minshall who reached first on a single and advanced on a sacrifice by Gene Fowler.

IN THE SEVENTH, Concord pitcher Tom Eidson yielded a single to John Nourse and another single, a scratch infield hit, to Jim Overby.

With two outs, Lloyd Johnson hit a ball down the third base line, and a Concord error allowed both the tying and winning runs to score.

It was a tough loss for Eidson who allowed no earned runs and had a no-hitter until the sixth. Art Heasel won his third game of the tourney for Diablo Drug, and was voted the outstanding pitcher of the district competition.

Both pitchers had five hitters, but Heasel was supported by errorless fielding.

IN THE CONSOLATION game, Rheem Center wiped out a 4-1 Concord Center lead with a nine run rally in the fifth.

Seven hits, four errors and two walks drove Concord pitcher Joaquin Valle from the mound and gave Rheem an insurmountable lead. The winners added two additional runs in the seventh.

Chuck Stapleton hit a grand-slam homer in the first inning to account for all of the losers runs. Concord managed only hit, a sixth inning single off winning pitcher Gus Teichera, the rest of the game.

IN ADDITION TO the pitcher trophy won by Heasel, Diablo Drug star Phil Churchill was awarded the all-around player trophy. Rheem Center's Ed Vick had eight hits in 13 at bats and a .615 average to capture the batting award.

Concord Center was voted the sportsmanship award.

Tigers Capture Farm Loop Flag

With a tie for the Concord Babe Ruth Farm League pennant already cinched, the Tigers wrapped the title up last week by shellacking the third place Orioles twice.

The Tigers walloped the Birds 18-1 in the Tuesday windup game edging the same team 7-6 the previous Saturday.

Paul Sherman collected three hits and Jim Almond held the Orioles hitless until the final inning in the windup game.

The Orioles clipped the second place Senators 8-5 in the final league contest.

On the previous Friday the Senators had shoved the Browns into the league basement with a 10-5 win.

Farr's, Martin Women's Teams Tie in Bowling

Martin Brothers and Farr's T.V. moved back into first place tie Tuesday night in the Women's Night Owl League at Monument Bowl as Farr's took 3 points from Davi Jewelers and Martin Brothers dropped 3 to Farmer's Insurance Group.

Bill's Texaco remained in second place in spite of a 4-point loss to Stone's Men's Wear. Quaker State won 3 from Tri-Cities Amusement.

Honors for high game were shared by Frances Wong of Farr's and Lola Hampton of Farmer's, each of whom rolled 178.

Stone's Leona Berczyk had an exciting evening when she came in with high series games of 175, 174 and 164, for a total of 513.

Panthers Face Golden AC In First County Contest

Contra Costa County's hard-pressed Panthers will still be looking for their first touchdown of the season tomorrow night when they open county play with the Golden Athletic Club of Oakland at Pittsburg's Pirate Field.

Last Saturday the Panthers were blanked by a tough Valley Athletic Club Hellcat eleven 12-0 in Fresno; the week previous they were downed 13-2 in Santa Cruz by the defending Pacific Association champion Seahawks.

IN LAST WEEKEND'S contest, the Contra Costans had one early penetration to the Fresno 10 ruled back on an illegal procedure penalty and never were able to generate an offense afterwards.

The Hellcat team went 67 yards in nine plays for their first score, early in the third period. Jerry Pyle climaxed the drive with a 19 yard scoring pass down the middle to end Phil Robinson.

An interception by Fresno linebacker Cal Willis who ran the ball back to the Panther 19 set up the second score, also in the third quarter.

FULLBACK ALLEN OGLESBY went seven yards over right tackle for the hometowners' insurance score. The touchdown was the first of four made against the Panthers this season that was through the line.

Ed Miller, Contra Costa linebacker, blocked both Fresno conversion attempts.

Miller, guard Al Boot and tackles Travis Berkeley and Cliff Carpanello were the defensive leaders for the Contra Costans.

IN ADDITION to the prowess of a talent-loaded backfield featuring Little All-American and Detroit Lion Bob Lawson, the winners were helped greatly by the punting of George Moorhouse who consistently kept the Panthers bottled up in their own territory.

WHY DRIVE 5 MILES TO BUY A SUIT HERE?
BECAUSE WE'LL SAVE YOU FROM $3.98 TO $7.60 PER MILE, THAT'S WHY!
Yes, the least you can save is $19.66 on a $75 All-Wool Imported Italian Sharkskin Suit ($55.34 Johnny's price). You can save up to $38.01 on a $85 custom-tailored Imported Diamond Weave Mohair Suit ($46.99 Johnny's price).
Nothing here is sold at regular price. It is our sincere belief that nobody else can touch our prices, or even come close. Our business is done in the top quality bracket. That's where the savings are the greatest!
The manufacturers love us for our orders, even though they must take short profits. But we do too. You save here, because we pay cash and we sell directly to you for cash. No charge accounts, no chain store stuff here—just lots of good clothing.
Every garment displays a tag with both prices. That suit in velvetier cloth by Wo-rumbo, for example has two prices, $89.50 regular retail price everywhere else, $60.67 Johnny's price.
